feeling the pain of others
running-out of fear
learning to compromise
anger because of misconception
rebuilding in hope
silent tears and prayers
sharing, opening, giving
selfishness because of conceit
seeing everything in perspective
intolerance from ignorance
the emptiness of withdrawl
cheating when you are trusted
pleasure from victory
a momentary satisfaction
resting your hand on a friend's shoulder
drumming fingers on a desk because of boredom
laughing because it tickles
cringing at a sour note
singing in joy
disjointed chattering to break silence
a sincere expression
excuses for defeat
a problem faced
student's crying
a teacher's concern
acting carefree as a guise
caring, sympathizing, loving slamming the book when you don't understand
thought to find a solution
anticipating a movement
an open mouth when a perfect paper is received
almost dying for security
a wink in a crowd
quitting because it is too tough
searching for the truth
dragging your feet as you walk
letting the sun's rays seap into your skin
shrinking from harsh words
an enraged scream

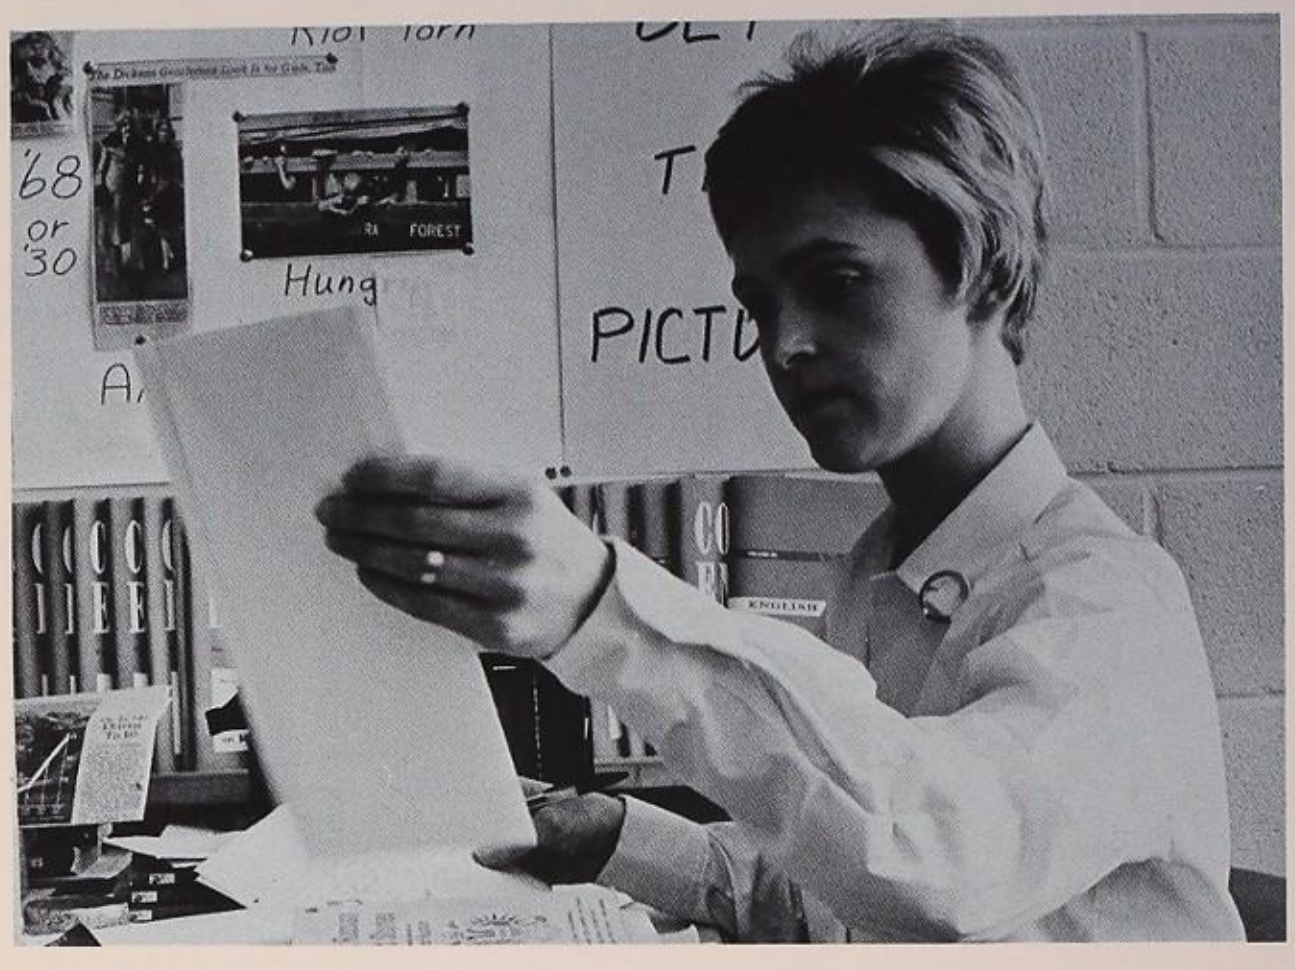
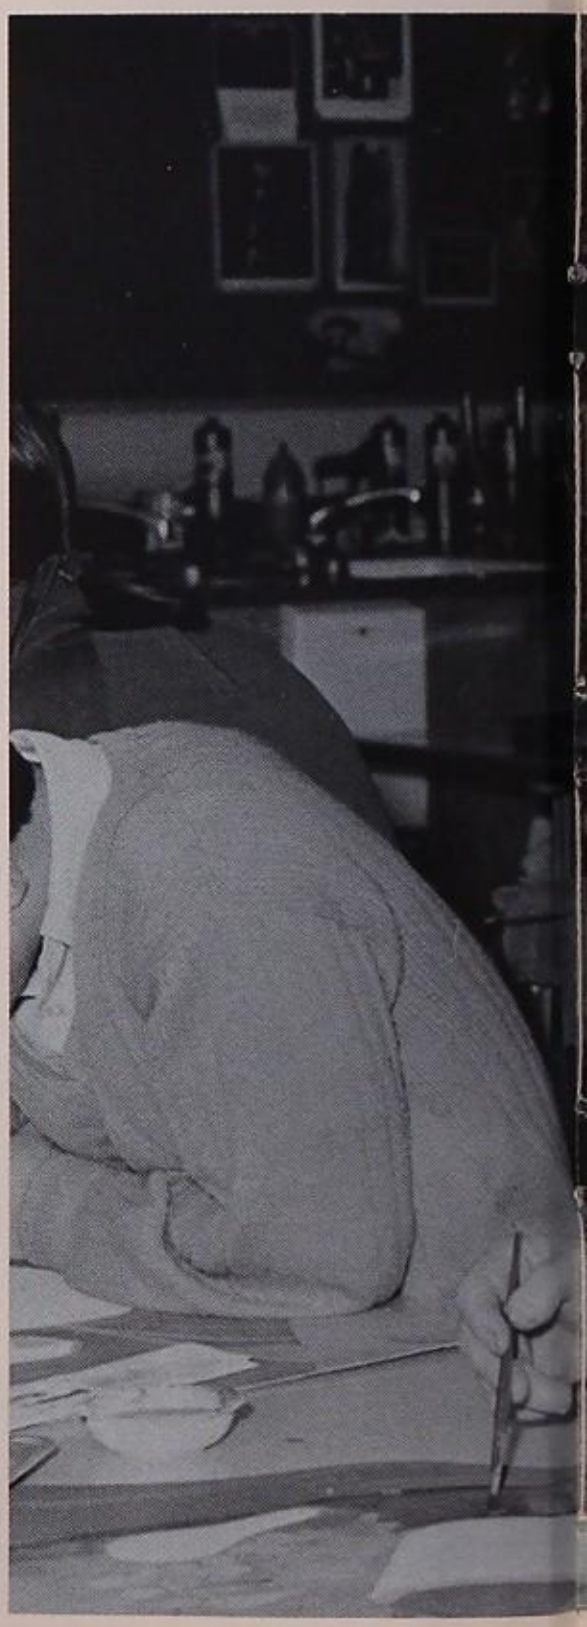
Curriculum





Education involves the cooperation and sharing of knowledge where the use of resources and material available in the form of books and people, is offered to the student. As the students discover what they need to learn, the teacher helps them to benefit from past experiences and new ideas so that they may see themselves as both individuals and members of a society. Each student takes from his education what will be most useful to him and gives back to his environment the skills that he has learned so that he can contribute to help others. The development of creative potentials, the gain of general knowledge and the acquisition of specific information, are results of teacher-student relationships. Students have the opportunity to work with teachers to explore a subject, to work independently and to have accomplishments evaluated by the teacher who serves as an assistant, resource, and guide. The teacher listens and responds to what the students say, acting as a catalyst, asking questions, and offering data to increase the knowledge of the student. The class of 1969 is proud to graduate from one of the top schools in the state, which in turn, shows the caliber of the faculty and staff; we are grateful to all.

Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Alton U. Farnsworth

The smoothness with which the Guilderland Central School District runs, and specifically the High School, is something most people take for granted. Where other districts have internal problems concerning finances and administration, Guilderland has relatively few.

The credit on the executive level belongs to the chief administrator, Mr. Farnsworth. As executive officer of the Board of Education, it is Mr. Farnsworth's responsibility to administer the policies of the Board. He supervises the educational programs of the entire district which includes, five elementary schools, one junior high, one senior high and hopefully by 1970, a Middle School which will accommodate pupils in grade six, seven and eight.

As chief administrator, it is Mr. Farnsworth's responsibility to see that the state laws are complied with. These laws include educational law (teacher qualifications, minimum standards and curriculum), penal law, municipal law, transportation law, and fiscal law. One of the most difficult tasks Mr. Farnsworth faces is that of formulating the budget which is now more than six million dollars, twice the budget of 1963.

We, the students of Guilderland are indeed fortunate to be educated in such a stable, smooth running institution as Guilderland Central High School. The guiding force behind our first-rate school district is Mr. Farnsworth, and we extend our thanks to him.

Principal

Mr. Charles Ciaccio

In past years, both the Principal and the Assistant Principal have been asked to write a personal message on these pages. This year, the Yearbook Staff decided it was time to express our appreciation for these men and the tasks they perform.

The Principal, as chief administrator of the school, must be a man of varied talents and interests. Since returning from a sabbatical leave, where he did course work for a Ed. D. degree, Mr. Ciaccio has shown one of his primary interests to be that of student welfare. While busy with his work as teacher interviewer and supervisor, as well as curriculum and program planner, Mr. Ciaccio is ever present to speak with a student about school policy or any particular student headache.

Since Mr. Ciaccio's return to the principalship, the student body has received an increasing load of responsibility and freedom. The "student union," strongly supported by Mr. Ciaccio allows students the option of gathering informally or attending a regular study hall. More cultural films have been presented and Mr. Ciaccio has seen to it that all films are viewed in their entirety.

Mr. Ciaccio hopes that in response to the new freedoms allowed, the students will learn to cope with and accept responsibility. The students, were it not for Mr. Ciaccio's faith in them might long ago have their privileges and freedoms. Through pleadings and constant remindings, the student body has slowly responded in a favorable manner. We hope this response, though gradual, is a suitable reward, and we thank you Mr. Ciaccio for the faith you hold in us.

Assistant Principal

As that of other G. C. H. S. administrators, Mr. Carlson's responsibilities are demanding, and often thankless tasks. Basically, it is his job to oversee daily building maintenance and supervise the working staff. He is in charge of attendance, transportation, and secretaries. When discipline is required, discipline is administered. Other than those specifics, Mr. Carlson's role is that of a student advisor. Whenever needed, he can be found—always probing, questioning, solving—Thank you, Mr. Carlson, for caring.

Mrs. Hazel Cornelly.

Mrs. Ronda Twombly

Guidance

The immediate future after high school is very important to an individual. Here he takes steps that will lead him into higher education, the military, or the labor market. The decision is a very important one and every alternative must be considered to make sure the individual will be content with his choice.

At Guilderland High we are fortunate to have a first rate guidance staff. They are professionals who are qualified to help individuals plan and prepare for their post high school years. Each counselor meets with all his students at least twice a year. He helps the students make out a schedule that will best suit their abilities. They advise, revise and update the programs and courses offered. Various standardized tests are administered through guidance to help evaluate and compare the student with others his age.

The guidance staff at G. C. H. S. puts forth a concerted effort to direct students and see that their individual needs are met.

Library

For thousands of years, libraries have been useful both as places where knowledge is stored and where scholars can come in contact with that knowledge. Our school library follows in this tradition.

In order to be a good library, a library must possess up-to-date information. Otherwise it is practically useless for most people. There must also be a great deal of information written if possible from different viewpoints. Fulfilling this need the school library collects over 100 different magazines, five daily newspapers, and has a great wealth of reference materials other than the standard stock of encyclopedias found in most libraries. The microfilm readers are very helpful additions to the library. They prove useful if a student needs information that can only be found in the back copy of a magazine that someone else has taken out. Since current magazines are on the microfilm in the library, it is fairly easy to place in the machine the piece of microfilm containing the desired magazine.

For those who just want to be entertained when they read the library offers a large selection of fiction and non-fiction.

Health

There is a room in the 300 wing where eventually every student finds himself, whether in illness or in health. Physicals are given annually, and all students must have eyes, ears, height, and weight checked. Sports-minded boys are given special physicals. Earaches, sore throats, s p r a i n e d thumbs, students "catch" everything. Why is it only during Math quizzes that you feel faint? For the sick and the healthy, the added attraction is Mrs. Jenner's special humor and care. When school work or personal troubles are too much to cope wlth students find a sympathizing friend in Mrs. Jenner.

Mrs. Dorothy Jenner

Home Economics

Every girl in high school will probably someday become a wife and homemaker. To prepare her for a homemaking life the Home Economics Department offers such courses as clothing, foods, housing, management, safety, home nursing, child development, grooming, and health. The wide variety of these courses responds to the needs of the homemaker of today and tomorrow, who will undoubtedly find it necessary to attain maximum efficiency in the operation of a home.

English

One of man's basic needs is that of communication with other men. This involves expression of one's thoughts and desires, and understanding those of others. The English Department offers students many opportunities for self-expression through learned techniques, discussion, writing assignments, vocabulary, and by inducing thought. New semester electives were introduced: Humanities, Dramatics, Journalism, Creative Writing, various Literature courses, as well as several courses in more practical areas, such as Business English and Grammar.

Business Education

The Business Education department prepares students for a wide variety of office positions and business careers. Courses are offered in typing, shorthand, business math, bookkeeping, business law, stenoscript, and distributive education. Students gain practical experience by working in the school store and sometimes in the school offices. The business student is often called upon to donate their new-found skills in extracurricular activities.

Art

Picasso ... Rembrandt ... DaVinci ... Gauguin ... Manet ... masters of their craft, that of creating a message on canvas. The Guilderland art department does not claim to be able to transform anyone into their peer, but it is able to allow an outlet for artistic talent. Students are urged to use their imagination and to observe their surroundings more closely. The growth of this talent is stimulated by the teachers as they present a variety of art techniques, so that the student may formulate a style that best expresses his personality.

Mr. Theodore Vickery, Mechanical Drawing

Mr. Richard Wagner, Department Chairman

Mr. Donald Webster, Band

Music

Music moves us—profoundly, delightfully, and mysteriously. Its moods are many, its interpretations varied. But whether it be "Elijah," "Man of LaMancha," or "Peer Gynt," the Music Department is trying to get across one idea—appreciation. The avenues are many. The student may become involved in choir, band, orchestra, and individual lessons so that, if he chooses, he may pursue music as a career.

Foreign Languages

Our Foreign Language department brings far-away countries just a little closer. Throughout the day the halls of Guilderland are exposed to the sounds of learning in five different languages: French, Spanish, German, Russian and Latin.

Language class is an experience of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in a foreign language. Modern textbooks and learning techniques are supplemented by use of language laboratories, foreign films, foreign magazines and newspapers, and short-wave radio reproductions. All the frustrations and confusing moments in learning a language are soon forgotten as strange sounds one day fall into place. The rewards we reap from exposure to foreign cultures will endure throughout life and will promote a greater understanding between nations of the world.

Industrial Arts

Mr. Edward Munson, Department Chairman, Industrial Ceramics

The Industrial Arts department provide the opportunity for boys to learn skills they can use for the rest of their lives. They learn, through actual experience, how to print, repair cars, and build radios. Industrial Arts help the students understand modern technology along with establishing a sense of pride and satisfaction in their work.

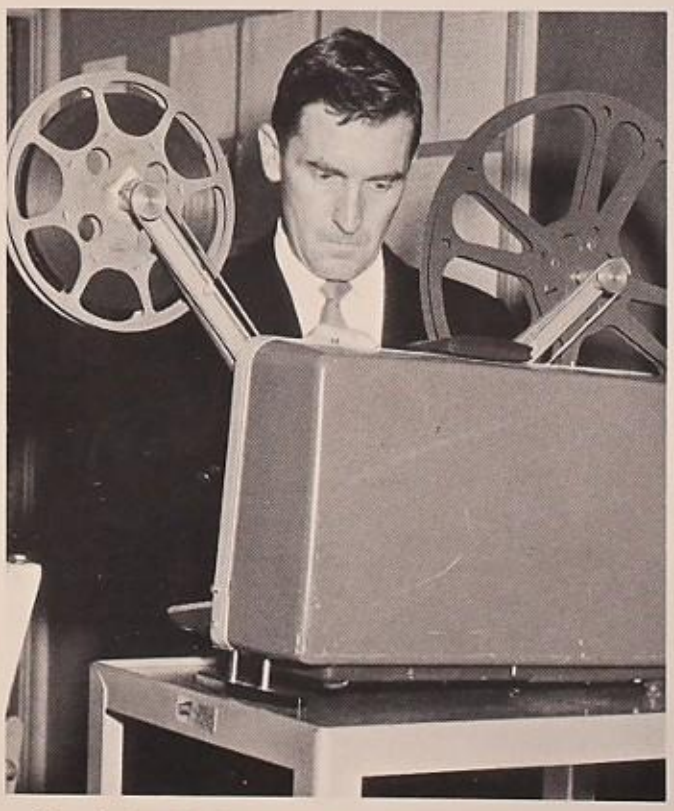
Driver Education



Mr. John T. Ryan, Department Chairman

Driver Education is the most sought-after course offered in our school. Students are taught the technical aspects of driving, along with practical experience. The latter often proves more beneficial than lectures. It gives the student the needed practice, under a qualified teacher, and the chance to test and improve his skills. The training the student receives in Driver Education will make him a better and more courteous driver now—and in the coming years.

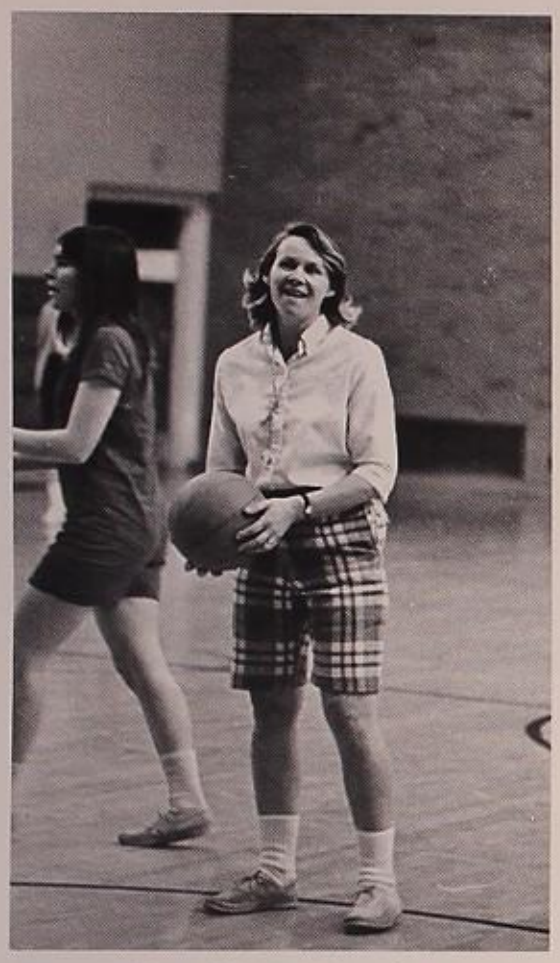
Physical Education



Mrs. Shirley Tetrault

Sportsmanship is the key word to any activity one faces in life. Naturally, this can almost go without saying in Phys. Ed. The gym teachers help develop our proficiency in sports which gains for the students, a better understanding of a game. If we try hard enough and play fair, we'll automatically develop good sportsmanship. In response to the demands of our growing industrial world, our bodies must be strong so that our minds can work clearly.

Science

The Science program at Guilderland is ever mindful of the need to keep abreast of the strides made in the Atomic Age. Therefore, the curriculum response to the need of the budding scientist by offering as much inspiration for innovation in science study as possible. On the other hand, the average student who may not intend to continue scientific pursuits will obtain a greater appreciation and understanding of his natural environment.

Each marking period ends to the sound of moaning and groaning from the science labs. It wasn't the student's fault that his five labs were all due in one week! This is only one trauma in the life of a dedicated science student. Other wonderful experiences are cutting up dead frogs or singeing your hair with the bunsen burner.

Social Studies

The Social Studies department of Guilderland enables a student to gain a better understanding of his fellow man. Because of them any problems facing our nation and our world today, it is important for man to understand his neighbor better. The required History courses help students to learn of the accomplishments and failures of men in the past. Through the many electives now offered, students can learn more about our own society as well as those around the globe.

Social Studies teachers present all sides to an issue and from there, students may form their own opinions. Students leaving Guilderland to go out and face the world will use the knowledge gained from the Social Studies department to try and make this world a better place in which to live.

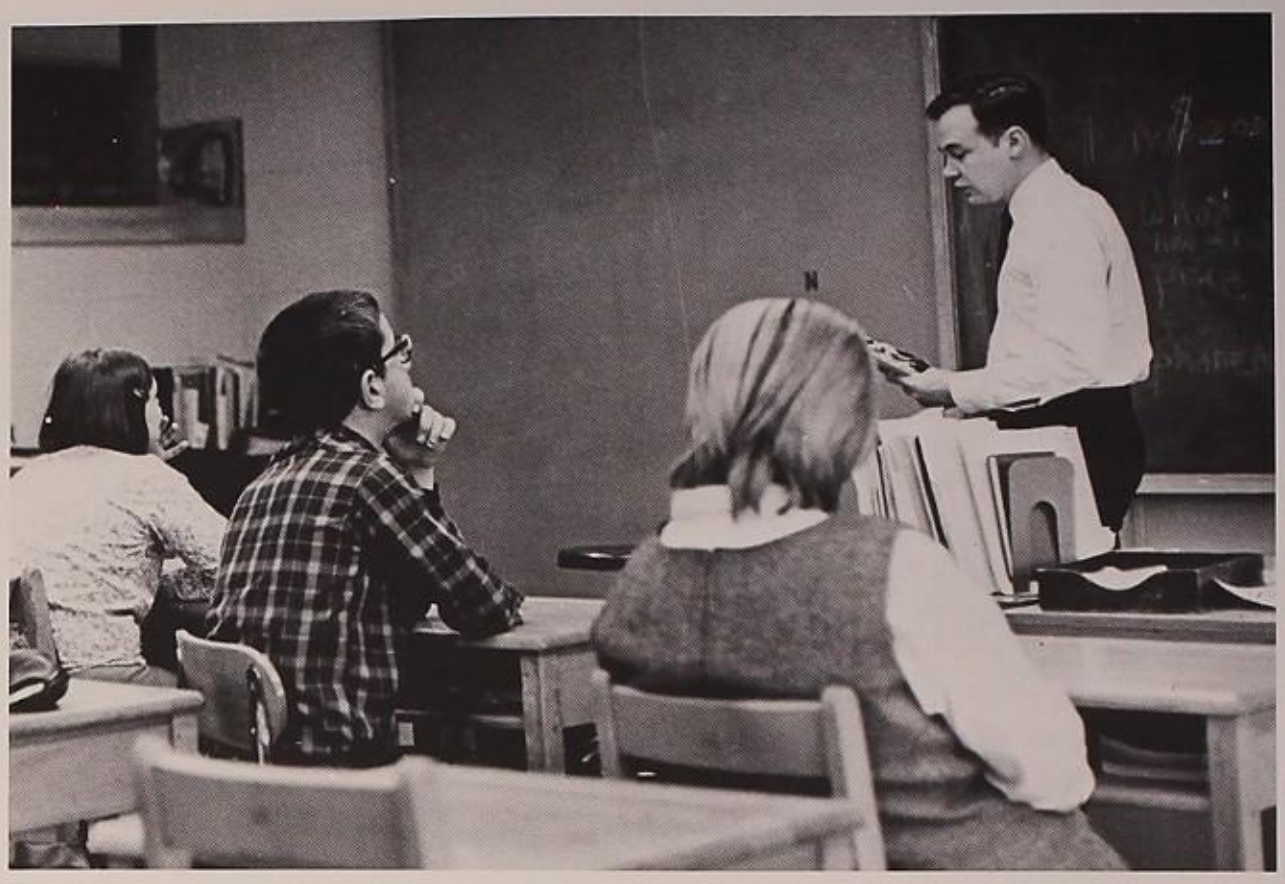
Special Education



Mr. Rourke captures the attention of his class.

Mr. Robert Rourke.

The special education department at Guilderland trys to teach the students in this program how to live a better life. Through the cooperation of the entire school, the students maintain their own kitchen area, have special classes in Art, Home Economics and Industrial Arts. All of this is under the occupational educational program. The students will, from the experiences in school, be able to maintain a normal life.

SENIORS

As we look back at our years at Guilderland, we will remember many things. Our classmates from the graduating class of 1969 will remain in our memories for many years. We will remember the tedious hours that we spent filling out job and college applications, and the excitement that we had when we were accepted. Many times we became frustrated when we did not pass a test or when we had a lot of homework, but now as we look back at these times, we know that our anxieties and frustrations were preparing us for the future. As we look to the future, we realize that we have a long road ahead of us and we hope that we are prepared for this road. The many plans that we have made will not be plans anymore, they will be our lives. Some of us will enter the armed forces. Many of us will become a part of the business world, and others will go on to college. The members of our class will go in many different directions, but we will always be the Guilderland Central Class of 1969.

As we look back at

Mr. Pryor, the class of 1969 would like to thank you for helping us.

Underclassmen

Viewed by a visitor, GCHS seems to resemble a factory with more active people than machines. Differing from an industrial building, Guilderland produces not material items, but instead, a series of answers and propositions in the form of written and oral responses, queries, and complex personal and impersonal relationships. The underclassmen compose the largest section of the synchronized organ called the senior high. Contributing to the school community in both quantity and quality, the underclassmen prepare to replace the seniors, excelling in the fine arts, academic achievements, shop, homemaking, business, sports, and occupational skills. The underclassmen aid the functioning of GCHS supplying energetic man power and raw materials, in terms of potential, so that each unit of the school may work efficiently with the others to make Guilderland a successful and ordered establishment. The underclassmen make GCHS a building and a collective body which tries to satisfy the needs and demands of the students, the administration, the community and the teachers, instead of meeting the needs and demands that consumers place on a factory.

1970 CLASS OFFICERS: Lee Gray, Pres., Sue Naginey, Sec., Leslie Mallin, V.P., Tom Capuano, Treas., Mr. Daniel Thomas, Class Advisor.

This year has been active and rewarding for the Junior Class under the guidance of Mr. Thomas, the advisor. The class officers who contributed so much time and effort were president-Lee Gray, vice president-Leslie Mallin, secretary-Sue Naginey, treasurer-Tom Capuano.

The year commenced with the annual magazine subscription drive. The class advocated new privileges such as the Student Union and the unsupervised lunch periods, while mutual trust and student responsibility were emphasized. The success of these privileges prove that the students were mature enough not to abuse special favors. The A.F.S. program received the largest response from the Junior Class than any other preceeding class.

The juniors have many ambitious plans for their senior year at G.C.H.S. They are looking forward to it with great enthusiasm and hope that it will be a successful one.

The Adjustment

1971 CLASS OFFICERS—Bill Cain, Treas., Barb Hart, Pres., Joe Gisotti, V.P., Mark Crook, Sec.

Mr. William Young, Class Advisor.

As the largest class yet, the sophomores have learned to adapt to most situations which are a part of the high school life. Puzzled by biology, world history, business courses, English 10, and the general sophomore curriculum the part of the year that is now passed has been confronted by the entire class. The sophomores have aided the failing school spirit at G.C.H.S. by providing new and excellent talent to the athletic teams, drama productions, and fresh membership for all of Guilderland's activities. The annual candy sale was a success due to the overwhelming eagerness of the class and leadership of the officers. With Mr. William Young as class advisor, the sophomore class will fulfill its goals and hopes during its years at Guilderland.

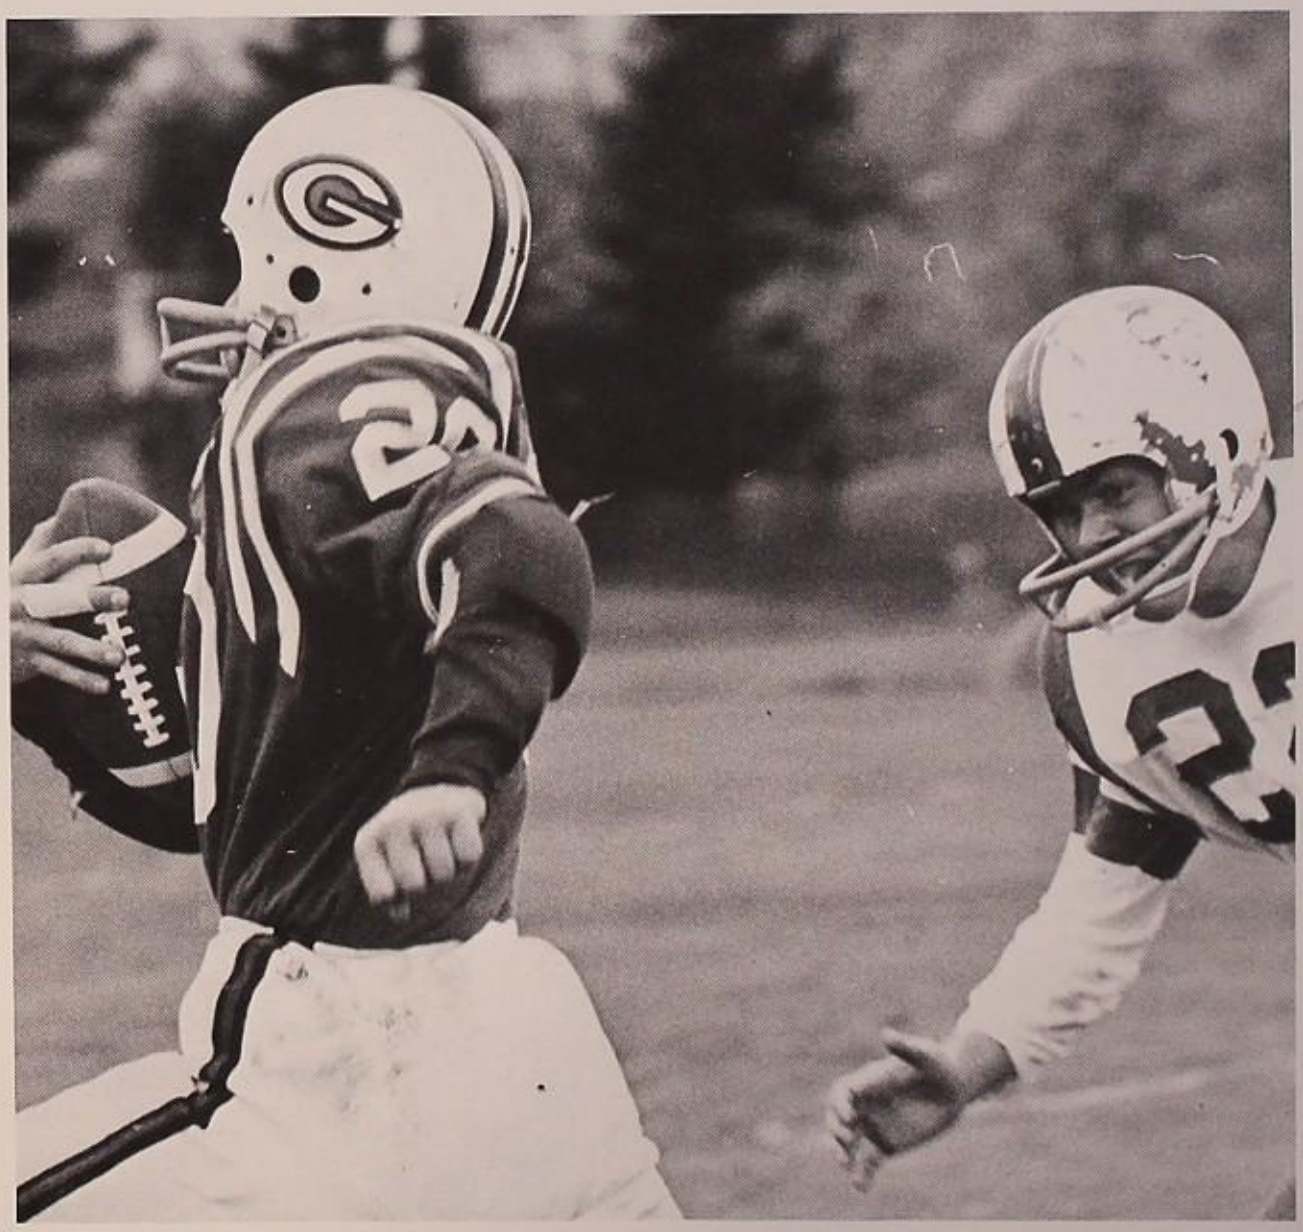
Sports



All students of G.C.H.S. have the opportunity to share in the conflict of competition. School spirit evolves around competition and the team. The area of sports is one of man's most ancient interests. Ancient, only because they have proven to be our greatest builders and developers. Athletic competition builds character and strong bodies, develops perseverance, determination, agility, alertness, loyalty, and friendship.

For the person who understands sports, all sports are equal because all of them have the same potential for emotional impact. The spectator can become just as enthused and excited at a wrestling match as an indoor track meet. When a student watches an athlete, he tries to find out: whether the athlete will fail or succeed, what his methods and styles are, whether what he is doing is difficult, and whether he has accomplished it. The sports of Guilderland attempt to include everyone, both the spectator and the performer.

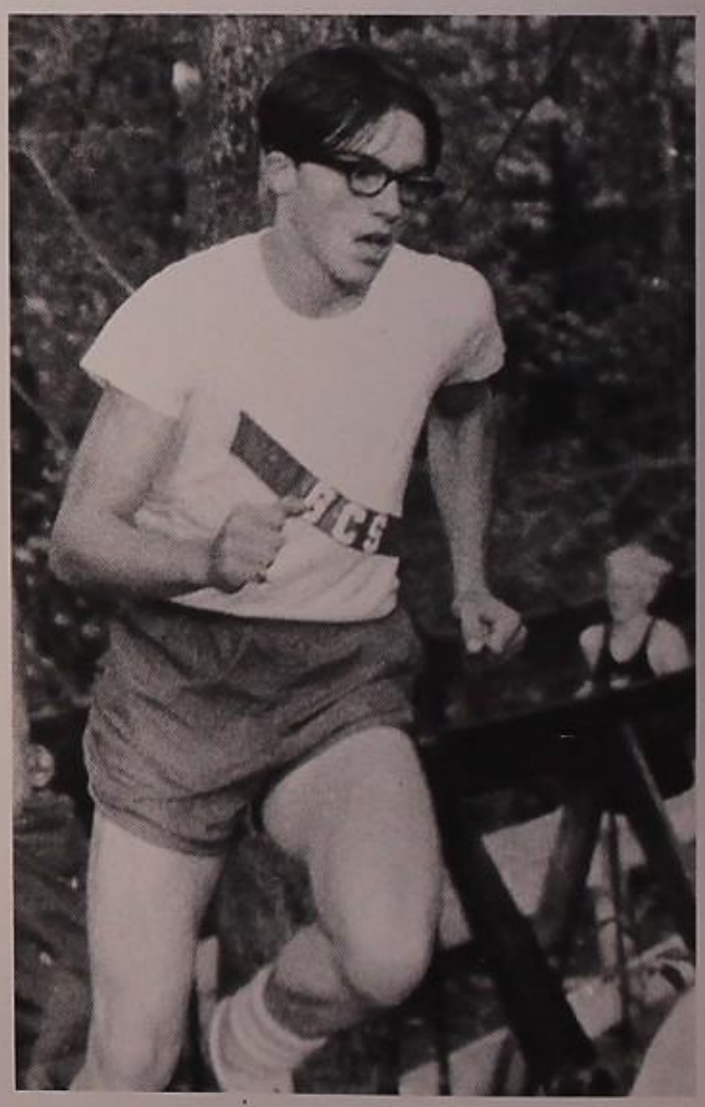
The 1968 Cross Country season was preceded by a grueling period of conditioning to prepare for competition against many of New York State's toughest cross country teams. Five veterans returned headed by captain Jim O'Brien. Yet the newcomers soon proved that they were as durable and determined as the returnees. The first timers were led by Dave Doak, usually the number one man on the team.

Beginning the season, G.C.H.S. traveled to Illion to compete with two upstate giants, Illion and Rome Free Academy. Returning home, they lost to the eventual Section II Class A kingpin Niskayuna and a strong Colonie squad. The Red and White got back on the winning track with victories over Columbia and Mohonasen, before falling victim to the ultimate Section II, Class B Champion, Johnstown, and area powers Shaker and Bethlehem. The runners next split a double-dual meet with Scotia and Burnt Hills. They closed out the season by winning two of their last three meets, destroying Ravena and shutting out Amsterdam.

Coach Drake's charges also ran in several invitationals and the Suburban Council Meet, in which they nabbed fifth place.

The Harriers 5-9 dual meet slate is not truly indicative of the 1968 team's calibre. According to their times, the 1968 squad was the best in the school's history.

The freshman and junior varsity teams have served notice that this fine development will continue. The frosh team was only defeated once in any meet and the jayvees took second in Section II. With these top young performers added to an impressive group of returning varsity runners, next fall will signal the start of another fine year for cross country at Guilderland.



Captain Jim O'Brien leads the pack.

Prior to the 1968 Soccer Season, the consensus of opinion was that Guilderland's chances were slim for continued dominance in area soccer competition. With few returning veterans, Coach Snyder faced a difficult task in fielding a cohesive unit. Yet, he responded by producing what has been termed "The Miracle Team of '68."

The Booters' early season showing began to instill hope in their fans that this team could follow in the fine Guilderland soccer tradition. In the opening game at Burnt Hills, two clutch goals from Bill Macali earned a 3-2 triumph. Returning to the home field, they took a similar one goal victory from Niskayuna. Meeting power packed Mohonasen in the third game, Bo Longood answered with a shutout, the first of eight in the ensuing season

The Scarlet Fever continued to roll over adversaries, playing a fast and exciting brand of soccer and winning with a tough defense and a strong team effort. The many Dutchmen fans saw several thrilling last-minute victories, including a double overtime triumph over Scotia and a win over powerful Shaker in the last seconds of play.

Undefeated, and heading into the second half of the season, GCHS was tagged as "the team to beat" in the Surburban Council. Traveling to Mohonasen, the booters put on a fine display of pressure playing, rallying to tie the game and eventually win in the second overtime. The rest of the regulation season, every team Guilderland faced was determined to knock the Red and White from their undefeated status. Bethlehem succeeded, in the only game in which Guilderland allowed more than two goals to the opposition.

Guilderland's 15-1 record was more than good enough to land a berth in the Sectionals. In the first game, goals by Jim Jacob and Lou Gratton and an ever-present stubborn defense earned the booters a 2-1 victory over Cobleskill. They then met Burnt Hills in the semi-finals and stormed to a 3-0 conquest. In the final game of the season, against a potent Mohonasen squad, the scrapping booters failed by the slim margin of one goal in an effort to bring home the second consecutive Section II trophy.

Coach Snyder and his team are to be commended for their fantastic season: extending their unbeaten string to 33, copping first place in four years and taking a second or better in the Sectionals for the fourth consecutive year. They have shown that the exemplary spirit and hustle generated by a winning soccer tradition will produce a superior team each year.

With a team composed of enough talent to make a serious rush for the 1968 Suburban Council Championship, the "Big Red" team launched its season against the cinderella team from Burnt Hills, which was eventually fortunate enough to capture the title.

Guilderland began the season with a come-from-behind effort, to tie the Spartans, and then went on to back-to-back victories over Niskayuna and Bethlehem. This was quite an accomplishment, when in the past, a victory over either school would have made for a successful season.

The fourth game found the "Flying Dutchmen" running into an upset minded Colonie team, which stunned them with a 7-7 stalemate.

Guilderland rebounded the following week and in the next two weeks to follow with victories over Mohonasen, Columbia, and the last home game of the season's thrilling victory over Shaker, before a large homecoming crowd.

In the game upon which hinged the entire season, the team traveled to Scotia, and lost not only their bid for the schools' first undefeated football season, but the championship as well. A gallant effort fell short, with a large Scotia team choking many Guilderland thrusts hroughout the afternoon.

The 1968 team will go in the books as one of the best teams to represent Guilderland on the gridiron. Compiling a 5-1-2 record, they were the top offensive team in the Council, and thrilling to watch each Saturday.

Led by co-captains Paul Begley and Ron DeBenedetti, the "Big Red" survived numerous hardships, ranging from disappointment to crippling injuries to vital personnel, and rose to the challenge weekly to make its bid for the crown.

Besides Ron and Paul, the team will lose the talents of many graduating seniors. They made a strong contribution toward the rapidly growing tradition that Guilderland is to be considered an annual contender in the always tough Suburban Football Council—considered to be the best brand of football played in the area.

The junior varsity squad turned in a 6-2 season, winning their last five games. With many promising underclassmen, and a hold-over of several juniors who earned valuable experience on the varsity, the outlook is very bright for the fall of 1969. Under the tutelage of Coach Kenyon and his associate coaches, Herm Wyld, Bob Steenburgh, Rusty Ferris, and Nick Colomarino, the junior varsity and varsity teams will continue with their winning habits on the football field in the years to come.

The 1968-69 basketball season was one marked with disappointment and frustration, yet also which included a few moments of great achievement. The cagers ended with an 8-10 record, which placed them in the fifth spot in the Council. However, that record could easily have included victories in six games which were lost by a total of ten points. The heartbreaking losses were to Scotia (twice), Shaker, Niskayuna, Burnt Hills, and Gloversville. Guilderland ended the first half of the season with a 6-3 record, in third place. However, in the second half they managed only two wins.

The Dutchmen's inconsistency was vividly shown in the games with Bethlehem and Mohonasen. Guilderland trounced Bethlehem by 23 points the first time, yet took a five-point loss the second time around. Against Mohonasen the first time, Guilderland was beaten by 21 points. However, they came back to take a four-point win in the second game. The latter game has to be called the highlight of the season. Featuring a great defensive show, the Dutchmen knocked off the Warriors, who were ranked third in New York State at the time. One of Guilderland's top offensive productions resulted in another high point, beating Suburban Council co-champion Colonie.

A variety of things reduced the team's numbers from 15 to nine. This, along with the fact that there was only one senior (Bob MacDowell) playing regularly, hindered the team's effectiveness and helps explain its inconsistency. However, there were many fine individual performances.

Senior center Bob MacDowell and junior forward Kevin Legg were two of the outstanding hoopers in the Council. Mac accounted for most of the team's rebounds, the second-highest scoring average and the top single-game output (26 points and 20 rebounds). Kevin was the scoring leader (hitting 22 twice and 21 twice) and was second in rebounding. Junior George Murphy came on strong in the late season before he was injured, hitting 93 points in six games, including efforts of 18, 19, and 24 points. Steady play was also turned in by junior Tim Playford, who broke twenty points twice, junior Gary Menia, playing a tough defense, senior ball-hawk Ian Brown, soph Mark Crook, Bob "white-lightning" Artus, and hustling Dave Porter.

With the preponderance of underclassmen on this year's squad and the nucleus of a 14-4 Suburban Council co-Champion jayvee team coming along, rookie mentors Bill McEvoy and Tom McCarthy should find their second season a good deal more enjoyable.

The spring season of 1968 was an exciting one which saw the Dutchmen baseball team post a 10-6 league record, which tied them for second in the Suburban Council and sent them to the sectionals.

The season opened with five consecutive victories over Icabod Crane, Saratoga, Mt. Pleasant, Shaker, and Niskayuna. A slight decline resulted in only two wins in the next five games, but the stickers came back to roll over the next four opponents. They then split the next six games, ending the regulation season. The Red and White edged Glens Falls in eight innings in the first game of the Sectionals, only to lose to the eventual Sectional champ, Scotia.

With the graduation of Curt Tucker, Mark Havis became the spark for the Guilderland team. Several times during the season Mark teamed with Jack Clark to turn a double play to insure victory.

The pitching department was led by Paul Begley, who walked only 14 batters all season and ended with a six and one mound record. Backing up Paul was Don Schinnerer with the greatest number of innings pitched (58), mostly in relief of the starters. Don's record was 2-2, winning a clutch game in the Sectionals against Glens Falls in relief.

Rich Gifford supplied the big bat all year, hitting over .300 for all but the last two games. Gifford was also outstanding center fielder, using his long strides and his big glove to produce coverage of the center garden.

Tim Ward did a fine job behind the plate, handling his pitchers expertly. Opposing baserunners also feared his strong arm, as he cut down many men attempting to steal. Dennis Pidgeon provided a lot of power at the plate and a good job on the mound, and will be looked upon as a future leader in both departments.

Senior co-captains Begley and Clark, along with Pidgeon, Don Blagriff, Joe Bass, Phil Gallup, Harry Baumes, Gary Lauver, and Jeff Fish make up the nucleus of Coach Field's 1969 team, which will attempt to emulate the fine record of 1968 baseball.

As a result of the 1968 track season, the name Guilderland was a familiar name to many and stood as a track power in the Capital District.

The team took on the best in Section II and fared very well. In the final Section II track run-offs, Guilderland placed sixth in a field of 17 Class A teams. They ran in many other big meets, finishing fourth in the Suburban Council Meet, fifth of 13 in the Albany County Meet, and sixth of 19 in the Utica City Meet, in addition, to participating in the Colonie Relays and the Mont Pleasant Invitational.

While there were very few seniors on the squad, they did live up to all expectations. Gene LaJeunesse put the shot almost 50 feet, Pete Eastwood threw the discus 138 feet, 6 inches, and Mark Hendrickson ran the 440 in 53.2 seconds.

However, the greatest strength of the team was in its underclassmen, who will return this year. Jim Murphy, Ron DeBenedetti, and Mike Havern all broke the previous season's best individual point total. Murphy was undefeated in dual competition, setting the school records in the 100, 220 and 440. He was Suburban Council champ in the 100 and 220, and Section II champ in the 220. DeBenedetti was also undefeated in dual competition, breaking his own school record in the pole vault. He won the Albany County, Utica City, and Section II meets in his specialty, and took second in the State meet. Havern took 7 firsts, 8 seconds, and 5 thirds in twenty races in the high and low hurdles.

Backing up Murphy in the sprints was freshman Joe Gisotti, with a 10.5 in the 100. Rick Polsinelli was right behind Hendrickson in the 440 with a 53.5. Jim O'Brien took second in the Council with a 2:02.8 clocking in the half-mile, and was backed up by Kevin Legg (2:08) and Dave Doak (2:10). John Brittell was strong in the mile, running 4:43 and Bill Batzinger was steady with a 5:04. Bob Yorio copped third place in the Albany County Meet with a leap of 20 feet 9 inches in the broad jump. Bob Heine and Jim Conklin also placed several times in the high jump and weight events, respectively. Other members of the team who scored were Tom Davenport, Dan Prewett, BrianFischer, Jim Keefe, Dan Stenzel, Joe Riley, Kevin Houe and Mike Smith.

With virtually everyone returning, Coaches Roche and Drake have worked hard in the off season, preparing for a fight for the Suburban Council Championship in 1969.

Overcoming many small problems the Varsity Wrestling Team, coached by Mr. Wyld, managed to record a 6-5 dual meet record. They came on strong to win 3 out of 4 matches in a fine finish to ice a winning season. They were paced by top scorer and top pinner Ed Belles. Also, tri-captains Ron DeBenedetti, Ed DeGroff, and Tom Davenport, senior Brian Fischer, juniors Tom Hornbach, John Chakmakas and Dave McKenney and sophs Bill Cramer and Mike Campisi all contributed to the grapplers' winning season.

During the Christmas Season the Dutchmen traveled to Rochester to participate in the Webster Invitational Christmas Tourament. Here John Chakamaks and Ron DeBenedetti placed first and Bill Cramer finished second. The following week the grapplers wrestled in the Schenectady Christmas Tournament. The best for the Dutchmen were second place finishes of Tom Hornbach and John Chakmakas. Tired from a full week of matches, the Dutchmen went west to Cobleskill to participate in the Cobleskill Invitational Tournament, where they placed third as a team. Individual champions were Ed DeGroff and Ron DeBenedetti followed by the second place finishes of John Chakamakas, Bill Cramer and Tom Davenport.

The grapplers entered the post season tournaments with great anticipation. Coach Wyld "went wild" and worked the team to the utmost. On Saturday, February 22, the Dutchmen placed 7 wrestlers in the Suburban Council Meet. Taking the team's only first place honor was Ron DeBenedetti followed by runnerup honors of Mike Campisi, Brian Fischer, and Ed Belles, 3rd place efforts of John Chakmakas and fourth pace finishes of Bill Cramer and Barry Hans. The Section II Wrestling Championship Meet at Adirondack Community College was the conclusion of the 1968-69 Wrestling Season. The Big Red also matched strength with 60 other schools and rolled up a total of 101 points to cop fifth place as a team. Here the Dutchmen had their first Section II Champion in school wrestling history in John Chakmakas. Ed Belles placed second and Ron DeBenedetti earned the third spot. John traveled to Rochester to participate in the New York State Championships on March 7 and 8.

The J. V. grapplers, under the direction of Coach Belcer, finished a successful season with a record of 8-1-1-. They were led by high scorers Carl Hornbach, Bob Davis, Bob Drake, Al Wardell, Bob Scherzer and David Davenport.

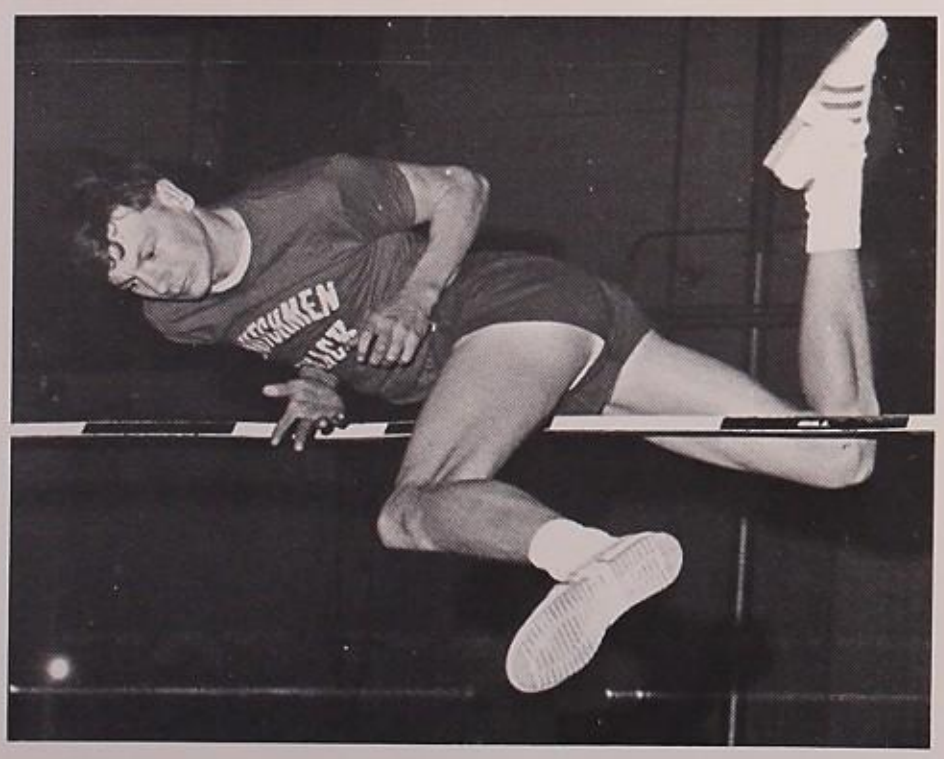
The 1968 indoor team meet withstood many cold, grueling practice sessions to compete with the best track powers in the Tri-County Indoor Track League. Outstanding for the Dutchmen were Jim Murphy, who now holds virtually all of the school records in the sprints and middle distances, and Bob Heine, a stead high-jumper, who tied for second in that event in the Championship Meet. Under Coaches Roche and Drake, the team has finished another successful indoor track season.



Bob Heine clears 5 feet 10 inches for a bronze medal.

In the course of one short year, Guilderland has made tremendous progress in gymnastics. Under the fine direction and tutelage of Coach Mullen and Mrs. Armstrong, both the boys' and girls' teams have taken great strides toward area recognition and have achieved it. An indication of this new strength was displayed on the 25th of January, when the Guilderland girls' team defeated the Linton girls' team. This was the first loss that the Linton girls had suffered in their history.

The second-year Guilderland teams knocked heads wih many established gymnastic powers, both in and outside the area. Besides Mont Pleasant, Linton and Colonie. they competed with Rensselaer, Oneonta, Henninger, Rome Free Academy, New Hartford, Whiesboro, North Syracuse, Redhook, and Wappinger Falls. The Jayvees met Steinmetz, Shaker, Linton and Hudson.

A strong individual effort was turned in by senior, Mark Armstrong, who led all scorers in every boys' meet except the last, in which he tied with Jim Ebetino and Dave Scrafford for high score. Heidi Armstrong was the big gun for the girls' team. She was the high scorer in every Varsity girls' meet, having a field day against North Syracuse. There, she copped first place in five different events while the Guilderland team was taking first, second, and third places in all five events. Heidi was also the top scorer in the Linton Invitational, going against Linton, Colonie, and New Hartford. Bambi Armstrong and Debby Becker led the JV girls in their victories over Shaker and Steinmetz. Heidi and Bambi Armstorng and Wendy Pierce also reprecented Guilderland at the State Meet at the end of the regulation season.

Coaches Mullen and Armstrong can be proud of all of their young charges, who have brough further honors to Guilderland in this new and exciting sport.

Bowling_Skill and Enjoyment

Guilderland has always been a power in area bowling circles, and this year's team followed admirably in that fine tradition. The Dutchmen have never finished worse than third in the Suburban Council and the 1968-69 squad was no exception. The team was led and carried by Kim Sottong, who also led the Suburban Council in high single game (267), high triple (682) and high average (193). His 583 triple led the team to a sixth place in Class A Sectionals. He was backed up by steady bowling from Craig Swider, Dirk Roor, Art VanBuren and Terry Quinn. Swider had the second highest triple in the Council (671) and a high single of 234 to go with his 177 average. Roor had a high of 258 and an average of 175. VanBuren hit a 606 triple and maintained a 171 average. Quinn hit a steady 167.

The 1968-69 season has been one more example of Guilderland bowling superiority and it is an almost sure bet that it will continue its dominance.

The main words describing cheerleading at G. C. H. S. in '68 and '69 were 'new' and 'different.' Early in the fall, the varsity cheerleaders received new sweaters and the J. V. cheerleaders cheered at some of the Saturday football games.

Many changes came with the basketball season. The J. V.'s received new uniforms. Eight-year old Diane Hanrahan (Linda's sister) was an exciting addition to the varsity squad. Diane participated in many cheers and was a pleasure to see in action.

Both squads originated many new cheers and formations. We should be proud of these sixteen girls who represented Guilderland at Suburban Council sports events.

ACTIVITIES

What better reflects the mood of the student body than its activities? The clubs and organizations of Guilderland depend upon the involvement of the student. The achievements of the past year have proven that the students of G.C.H.S. are both interested and involved. Working for a common goal, such as a trip abroad, they have held bake sales, book sales, car washes, and rock concerts. The proceeds were also used to benefit others; for example, A.F.S.

Such response from the student body inspired more trust from the administration. 1969 saw the end of faculty supervision of the cafeteria, and the advent of the Student Union, an unprecedented event. Should these programs work out satisfactorily, even greater freedoms will be allowed.

Mr. Arthur Jewell
Advisor

The purpose of a yearbook is to tell the story of the year. Pictorally and in print, it must portray all facets of everyday student life. It must be factually accurate, artistic, interesting, original and complete. That is quite an order!

Although useful experience was gained from our work with last year's staff, none of us could fully understand the huge responsibility we'd accepted. We learned through necessity.

Sue Schuck, as head of the theme section, worked to create a mood throughout the yearbook with a photo essay, divider pages, and running heads. Joyce Ritzko has provided us with a lasting remembrance of our high school teachers as curriculum identifies faculty and administration. The senior section, headed by Jean Sands, highlights the past activities of seniors and their future plans. Jackie Mueller and her underclassmen section have portrayed the rest of the student body. Mike Havern's sports section concentrates on recounting all athletic teams and past events throughout this past school year. The activities section, headed by Phyllis West presents not only certain clubs and organizations, but all phases of extracurricular and social interests of the students. The Advertising and Business Management section, headed by Maryann Delaney, concentrates on getting business ads, patrons, and personal contributions and has the responsibility of meeting the final cost of the TAWASENTHAN. Student response to our pleas for typists and pictures was gratifying.

Special admiration is given to Mr. Jewell, Deb Long, and Andy Allendorph. Through their time consuming efforts, they have made possible the publication of our yearbook.

Student council responds

Student Council is the student's governing body; it closes the gap between the students and the administration. This year's Council has attempted to make Council more active, beginning with a new constitution.

Besides sponsoring dances, conducting the annual food drive, and selling refreshments at home basketball games, Council has expanded its role in the school. Recently, there has been a demand for more student government and more student responsibility. Council has worked toward these goals. Council has established the Sounding Board and the ID card system, which will do away with passes next fall. The Student Council officers were part of a committee, along with four teachers, which proposed the Student Union, now in effect. Council is also investigating the possibility of establishing a Student Court.

In the spring, Council prepares for the next year by holding school-wide elections of its officers. Student Council plays an important role in the daily activities of all Guilderland students.

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS: Ian Brown, vice president; Jackie Mueller, treasurer; Mike Havern, critic; Rose Lawlor, secretary; Larry Patrick, president.

Another of the organizations which involves a large number of the students at G.C.H.S., the National Honor Society is a sample of the quality of education that can be credited to our school.

With Miss Warren as advisor, Honor Society plays a huge role in sponsoring educational and functional activities for the school. Guest speakers, commenting on many varied subjects of current interest, were a part of Honor Society's beneficial program. Another was College Day in which the alumni were asked to come to comment on college life and during the course of the year, Honor Society members were sent to different schools on the Visitation Program.

To raise money, Sceptre and Honor Society together, provided vending machines in the Student Union. These were a big success. They also held bake sales, dances and their second annual Hootenanny.

In April, the induction ceremony was held to induct the eligible students on a basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service. These requirements must be met throughout the year by all Honor Society members. Again, the large number of students inducted show the scholarship quality apparent in G.C.H.S.

Honor Society members enjoy studying in the Conference Room.

Intra-school communications is essential, and the task of The Guilderland Journal is to provide that communication. The Journal not only reports the school events, but also expresses the ideas of the students, faculty and administration.

Under the expert guidance and supervision of Mrs. Rothstein, the editors and the staff try to keep the paper tuned in on the pulsebeat of the school. The Journal should be an active organ of school life, and through their efforts, the staff has made it so.

The Journal is our paper and we, the students and faculty, should not only commend the staff, but try in the future to make Journal communicate through our efforts also.

Sceptre Service works for others.

SCEPTRE SERVICE OFFICERS: Top to Bottom: Joanne Hughes, treasurer, Janet Raftogianis, vice president, Leslie Mallin, secretary, Deb Playford, president.

Sceptre Service is an organization of girls which serves the school, and strives to better it through their efforts. Members are elected by the girls already in the club. New applicants, this year, were first introduced at the annual soiree. Sceptre also held a tea and interviews to meet the applicants. The club also sponsored the successful Homecoming Activities on November 9, 1968. For the benefit of the American Field Service, Sceptre held the annual slave sale. The girls are auctioned off to the highest bidder and for two days must fulfill any reasonable request of their masters. Sceptre also takes care of banking procedures, serves at school banquets, and ushers at school functions.

Key Club's aim is to serve.

The G.C.H.S. Key Club is sponsored by the Altamont Kiwanis. It is a boys' service organization. The members are chosen by the ones already in the club. The boys work throughout the year presenting various programs and participating in projects for the community and student body.

During home football games, Key Club manages a concession stand and cleans the grounds after the game. It sponsors toy drives, dances, such as Party Night, and the Alumni Dance. In the winter, they take on the responsibility of distributing school pictures.

Extra services rendered by the Key Club are serving at banquets, providing Air Raid Wardens, and joining with area Key Clubs in an effort to better the community.

The main objective of F.T.A. is to give the members an insight to elementary and secondary education. The members have a chance to help a teacher during an eighth period or during the day, when they have a study hall. In the elementary school, the members help with reading groups making charts, and correcting papers. If there is a child having a particular problem, an F.T.A. member might help that child to overcome his or her problem. In the Junior High and the Senior High they correct papers, watch the conducting of a class, and perhaps conduct a class. The executives and the advisor, Mr. O'Connor feel that everyone should be involved in this program, in one way or the other.

F.T.A. holds bake sales during the year, and just before Christmas, they sell Christmas wrapping paper. They also hold the Faculty Fishbowl in the fall with the Sadie Hawkins dance heading the spring agenda.

Every year, with all the profits made from the activities during the year, they give at least one scholarship to a graduating senior boy or girl. In order to qualify, the student must be entering the field of education and have need of aid.

Red Cross Club offers funds to aid research

Red Cross is an organization to benefit those in need. It is under the supervision of Miss Dodge, and representatives are chosen from every homeroom. The Red Cross helps the National Red Cross to aid the needy. The most publicized activity of the club is its fund raising drive for those who need help in the financial area. The Red Cross is a great service to the school and the surrounding community.

A.V. Club is formed for all students interested in projection equipment. Under the expert supervision of Mr. Provencher, these students learn to operate and take care of audio visual equipment such as movie projectors and tape recorders. We are very grateful for the help that these students give us with these educational facilities.

Russian Club, under the direction of Mrs. Aumick, its advisor, Sue Schuck and Sue Davis, its co-chairman, and Joyce Ritzo, its treasurer, has made ambitious plans to visit Russia during Easter vacation. Money has been raised through bake sales, candy sales, and paper drives. The trip will give those involved a chance to learn about Russia, and to practice speaking the language with native Russians.

With the help of its officers, Cathy Bookey, president, Allison Howarth, vice president, Charlotte Hurling, secretary, and Lissa Hale, treasurer, French Club provides opportunities for extracurricular language activities. The basic aim of the club is to further interest in French and culture and language. Their future plans include dinner at a French Restaurant and a trip to Montreal.

German Club's main objective is to further its members knowledge of the German culture. It also gives extra experiences with German outside of class. They have sponsored bake sales to raise money to go to New York City. Several members are hoping to travel to Germany this summer. The officers are Brooke Smiley, president, Krista, Parker, vice president, Dianna Karwowski, treasurer, and advisor, Mrs. Richards.

Majorettes and Ski Club

Of the favorite winter sports among the Guilderland students, is skiing. The G.C.H.S. Ski Club has continued to be one of the school's most popular extra-curricular activities. Ski Club offers the students the opportunity to ski at some of the finest ski resorts in the region. Killington, Bromeley, Stratton, and Gore are a few of the many slopes which await anxious novices and experts each weekend.

Under the leadership of Mr. Burda, the clubs' advisor, and its officers, each trip has been a successful one. Movies have also been shown at meetings depicting safety rules and the correct style in which to ski.

SKI CLUB OFFICERS: Corky Battaglia, Joanne Collins, Dom Falzano, president, Larkin Rusch.

This year at Guilderland a new group was organized. We now have a Majorette Squad. The squad is divided into two divisions, the twirlers, who twirl batons and flags; and the colorguard, who twirl rifles and are in charge of flags. Each division has sets of routines practiced by individual girls and by the whole division. The Majorette Squad performs at all home football games. Getting organized was difficult, but the response was enthusiastic and the squad looks forward to improving in coming years.

The purpose of Senior Monitors is to maintain order in the cafeteria and halls. These seniors have volunteered to stand duty during lunch and study halls to protect their rights and privileges as seniors. The members of the group, originally started by Jim Leto, were issued special passes allowing them to fulfill their duties during study or free periods. A table was set up for their use and to inable them to carry out their responsibilities.

All students, seniors and underclassmen, should be grateful for the time given by these students. They are preserving privileges for seniors now, and for all seniors in the future.

FCA and Leadership Club for the athletically inclined

Leadership Club

Any boy who has earned a varsity letter is eligible for Leadership Club. This club serves as an example of fine sportsmanship and strong athletic achievement. All money earned by the club is used to supply athletic equipment.

Some of the sports involved are basketball, baseball, football, soccer, track, wrestling, cross country, tennis, golf, and volleyball.

We admire our athletes for their exhibition of sportsmanship and ability throughout the year.

FCA

The chief motive of FCA is to further the Christian attitude stressing the importance of God in our everyday lives.

At their meetings, the boys discuss pertinent problems confronting today's youth. These discussions are supervised by various G.C.H.S. coaches, but led by the officers and members. The money that FCA makes is used for club purposes as well as a service fund. It is also hoped that some members can be sent to a summer FCA camp this year.

Air Raid Wardens and Bowling Club

Air Raid Wardens

The purpose of the Air Raid Wardens is the escort and direction of students to safer areas in the school in the case of an air raid. The Air Raid Wardens are senior members of Key Club. Some Juniors are also in this club. They are picked on the basis of reliability and responsibility.

BOWLING CLUB OFFICERS: Deb Hanrahan, secretary, Sandy Rice, president, Carol VanDenburg, vice president, Judy Yorio, treasurer.

Under the direction of Mrs. Yager, girls interested in bowling have had the opportunity to display their talents at Westlawn lanes every Tuesday night. The membership has increased considerably over last year's team. Even though many of the girls are inexperienced, they find enjoyment in attempting to break "100."

Choir's ideal harmony

In this area of so many competitive high schools it is difficult for a school choral group to gain a reputation as an outstanding organization. Through total effort in concentrated rehearsals, our choir has received such recognition for many years. Annual performances at the Anlee Home for the Aged and Colonie Center, as well as at seasonal school concerts, bring our choir applause from all over the tri-cities area. Mr. Richard Wagner, exacting director of our choir and chairman of the music department, continually strives for emotional expression in the group. Part of our choir's repetoire is sung acapella, and the rest is sung to the accompaniment of Mrs. Floyd Farnum. Concert Numbers are chosen for our choir not on the basis of commercial appeal to the audience, but rather on their musical merit and educational value.

CHOIR OFFICER'S: Jackie Mueller, president, Joyce Ritzo, secretary, Peter Mahigian, treasurer.

Mr. Wagner leads the daily practice.

PA Announcers and Library Assistants

The students of G.C.H.S. enjoy the pleasant voices of our friendly P.A. Announcers every morning as they welcome each day. After leading the pledge of allegiance and pausing for a moment of meditation, Deb, Ian, and Karen inform us of all important events of the week. Announcements include sports events, eight period activities, and upcoming social events. Their lively, spirited voices are appreciated by everyone, each morning, at G.C.H.S.

Ian Brown, Deb Long, Karen Leslie.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS: Seated: P. Button, C. Garrison, J. Butler, S. White, L. Wolff, K. Barber. Standing: J. Pieniazek, D. Armstrong, B. Nelson, P. Moore, D. Crounse, N. Bartkowski.

Miss Ropke has taught her assistants the fundamentals of running a library and they have proved to be a great service to the school. They spend their free periods locating books, signing passes, and keeping the library a silent place to study. The assistants services help Miss Ropke keep up with her numerous responsibilities as our librarian.

Drama Club - for aspiring thespians

DRAMA CLUB OFFICERS: Deb Clarke, Nancy Chiboucas, Chris Rossi, Mike Milks.

Dramatics Club was formed late in 1967 to provide an organization for the growing dramatics activity at Guilderland. The club had Mr. Warner as its advisor. His experiences in the theater has been very helpful.

The present club evolved from the Dramatics class, a senior elective, and the informal group of students who have consistently supported the annual productions.

The primary aims of the club are to produce both entertaining and challenging plays, and to create workshop activities to provide experience in acting, stagecraft and allied art.

In its first year, the club produced three one-act plays. These plays were Not Enough Rope, Arin da Capo, and Impromptu. As part of the workshop program, these plays were managed by student directors. The club also engaged in preparing for the spring production of Tom Jones.

Membership is growing rapidly, indicating a considerable amount of interest among the students at Guilderland.

Mr. Daly advises Debate and Human Relations Clubs

Debate Club

Newly formed this year, the Debate Club, affiliate of the National Forensic League, consists of Varsity and J.V. teams. Under Mr. Daly, the club's advisor, the members learn how to gather information and present it effectively.

Tournaments take place through invitation and many schools participate in the same competition. In the debate, each competing team contains both affirmative and negative sides. The judge, usually a debate coach from another school, awards speaking points on an individual basis for content qualities involving analysis, rebutal, interpretation, and refutation.

Human Relations Club

This year a new type of club was formed at Guilderland. It is under the able direction of Mr. Joseph Daly. The main reason the Human Relations Club was formed was to relate communication between the different groups at Guilderland.

The club officers are: Tom Canaday, Kay Stout and Nancy Marsh. After finishing the constitution, the club plans to sponsor speakers and to publish a pamphlet. The members would like to discover their own opinions as well as those of the student body on issues of Human Rights.

The club welcomes any person interested in this topic.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB OFFICERS: Thomas Canaday, Kay Stout, and Nancy Marsh.

Dance Band and

G.C.H.S. Band at practice.

As usual our high school band is engaged in a year crammed with activity. Several hundred dollars were earned in fund-raising projects spirited by total participation of the organization. The district's grade school were presented with demonstrative concerts that served to enlighten the elementary students as to the workings of a high school band. Our band has fused the explosive atmosphere at pep rallies this year. Undoubtedly, our smartly - uniformed band, along with our majorettes, has been an important factor in our many home football game victories. Our band's enthusiastic new conductor, Mr. Donald Webster, works closely with the band members in lesson and ensemble work as well as in group rehearsals. Mr. Webster, with the help of the band staff, maintains liason between the students and the Band Booster's Club, a parents organization that can be credited with much of our band's success.

Unfortunately the sound of the Dorsey brothers, Glenn Miller, and the likes is a rarity among the decibel-defying twanging of Guitars currently so popular today. Actually the only way to reminisce with the sweet sound of really "good" music is with an old R.P.M. 78 record of 1930's vintage. That is, unless you happen to be in the band room for an eighth period rehearsal of our own dance band.

The Dutcharies, or the Guilderland branch of Count Basies Orchestra, are patterned directly after the swinging big bands of the 30's and 40's. Contributing to our dance band's big sound are a five piece saxophone section, a four piece trombone section, a four piece trumpet section, a piano, string bass, drums, and an occasional guest vocalist.

Under the able direction of Mr. Herman Gresens, the Dutcharies have been operating under a busy schedule this past year, with numerous performances at area schools and a guest spot on the annual Cerebral Palsy Telethon.

"The Dutcharies"

Orchestra reveal musical talents

This school season our symphony orchestra, as in the past, has concerned itself with one main objective — the performance of concert music at professional levels of execution. Because of exhaustive daily rehearsals the dedicated musicians that compose our orchestra, never fail to achieve their goal. Our orchestra's energetic director, Mrs. Ruth McGowan, serves as a morale booster as the group labors for exactness on works by such greats as Mozart and Sibelius.

Each string player in our orchestra receives Mrs. McGowan's careful instruction on his own individual instrument. Currently in the planning stages is a reciprocal exchange program for our orchestra and a similar group from an area high school.

Mrs. McGowan conducts a daily practice.

In a world where human relations are so vitally important, we find it necessary to learn about other countries and people to better our understanding.

The students of our school are very fortunate to have not only exchange students from American Field Service and Rotary Exchange but private exchanges as well. Some of the many countries represented are Nicaragua, Chile, Germany, and South Africa. Karen Leslie, a G.C.H.S. student, visited Sweden, and Deb Long visited Switzerland.

These people are all willing to share their experiences with anyone who is interested. To some, their knowledge and customs will remain a mystery, but to others of us, remain memories of warm friendship and thoughts of newly acquired ideas and ways of life.

On the following four pages, the students will relate to you, memories of their trips and their ideas about America or other countries they visited.

Travelers who value

ORTRUD DERICHS

Thornton Wilder once wrote, "Education is the bridge man crosses from the self-enclosed, self favoring life, into a consciousness of the entire community of mankind." At this time, I would like to express my thanks to all the people of Guilderland who allowed me to cross this bridge and who made that crossing and my visit to this side so enjoyable.

I have been fortunate enough to visit many European countries, however this has been my first experience on another continent. I had never lived with a family other than my own, or attended school in a foreign country. I must admit that I was somewhat unsure of what to expect. Very soon however I realized that friendly and understanding people would help me to learn, adjust, and make my visit as comfortable as possible. They have indeed succeeded in making my home in America a warm and unforgettable one.

My year in your country has been one of learning and growing. I have learned to respect and understand the principles of tolerance. I have come to appreciate the importance of accepting people for what they are and not who they are. No year has more decisively sharpened my awareness of the necessity to strive for a communication between all peoples. This year has helped me to perceive of my personal goals and ambitions and has also helped in preparing me to attain them.

I know I am returning to Germany with many fond memories of America and her people, my friends. In exchange, I hope, I am leaving you with a better understanding of my country, her ways, and her people.

Ortrud

Ortrud in her native costume.

Ortrud with her American family, the Carmans.

I spent this past summer 1968 living with a wonderful family in Switzerland. This was made possible with a scholarship from G.C.H.S. and from the A.F.S. organization. I shall always be grateful for this experience.

Before I go on, let me explain briefly just what the American Field Service is and does. A.F.S. tries to match students with families abroad on the basis of interests, religion, background, or values so they have a common ground from which a strong and deep relationship may grow. Of course, no matter how well-matched, many things are strange and different, but that's the reason for an exchange program, to learn and gain understanding.

The adjustment was made easy for me by the warm welcome of my Swiss family, the Hubers. I felt at home the first day. I became part of a sizeable family: my parents, three sisters, two brothers, the housekeeping apprentice, and a dog—plus grandparents, several aunts, and cousins. My father, a busy lawyer, was an influential man in the little farm town where we lived. He regularly spent Sundays showing me cafes, boutiques, historic sites, the countryside, mountains, lakes—Switzerland. My mother was up every morning at six to start her work of gardening, cooking, cleaning to perfection, teaching the apprentice girl, shopping,...Both my older sisters worked, and my younger sister and brother attended school, so they were gone most of the day. I was free. I went all over town and got to know the people, worked for hours picking berries in the garden, walked the dog, rode my bike and explored, learned to cook the Swiss way, took the train to the city to shop ...and loved my independence. The evenings were always a family time. After a light supper of bread, fruit, cheese, and wine, we gathered in the living room. Many evenings were cool so we'd light a fire, and after catching up on the news of the day, each would busy himself according to interest. In the summer program the family experience is the core. I was there to learn, to share, to live. Thank you so much for the opportunity I had. I will go back some day.

After a day of shopping in Berne, 'sisters' sit on the old stone wall to relax.

Debbie leans over to smell swiss bowle—a specialty of wine and fruit.

Taking time to enjoy little things is part of Swiss life.

KAREN LESLIE

I came here on the fourth of January from a temperature change of 105 degrees F, to 25 degrees F, but my welcome here was warm and friendly. For this I want to thank my American parents and sister, Karen Leslie and all the students in school.

I am from the Republic of South Africa, the most southern country on the African continent.

My hometown is Malmesbury, 30 miles north of Cape Town, where we live on a big farm. Malmesbury is South Africa's biggest wheat district, but my father is a tobacco and grape farmer. I have two sisters older than myself and a younger brother.

I'd like to tell you about my school. It has about 500 pupils (from grade 8-12). Most schools in the Cape Province don't have any more pupils than this and it's nice because everyone knows each other. We wear a school uniform in S.A. which I find more comfortable because you don't have to worry about what to wear to school and there is no competition between girls. Each morning we stand in rows after the bell has rung and walk to classrooms in rows after having been given the order. This only happens after our national flag has been hoisted by the head boy and girl. In S.A. schools, discipline is the most important factor; discipline and respecting your teachers. In other words, our schools are much more formal than your schools.

Most people in S.A. take part in some kind of sport. Matches of almost all kinds of sports draw many spectators. At my school we have rugby, hockey, cricket, athletics, and tennis.

The South African teens are much like Americans. We don't have bowling in my hometown. I have found this to be a relaxing sport. Another sport we don't have is basketball and this I am going to miss a lot. I think it's great to watch as well as to play.

I am enjoying my stay here very much, but there is only one thing which makes me very sad and that is so little people know anything about S.A. and so many have the wrong impression of it. Some have only heard about Dr. Chris Barnard, the first heart transplant and Cape Town. The others think that S.A. is one big jungle. That's why I hear questions like: "Have you seen Tarzan!"

I just want to assure you that S.A. is just as modern as the U.S.

of those

"Write for us a little something about your year in Sweden, Karen," the yearbook staff asked me. Yet how can I relate twelve months in just "a little something"? Sweden seemed like a dream and now that I'm back in Guilderland, I can only wonder if my 365; 24-hour experiences really happened. Everything I'd done here at home and taken for granted suddenly took on new prespectives in Sweden. Simple things like reading the comics, watching T.V., listening to the radio, going to school, or even buying a candy bar were now challenges which loomed before me. The crux of my problem was that I had to learn to speak Swedish in order to communicate thoughts, feelings and opinions. I wanted so badly to master perfect Swedish that whenever I went to a store to buy something, I'd stand outside for a few minutes with my English-Swedish dictionary and rehearse exactly what I was going to say to the clerk. Then I'd meekly enter the store and end up being sold the wrong thing anyway. Going into a camera shop and trying to explain that I wanted to buy a roll of twenty, color slides for a Kodac instamatic 304 proved at times to be a chore. Yet the Swedish people are genuinely helpful and by the time the end of my stay rolled around, I was talking just like a Swede; a Swede with an American accent.

Homecoming - a celebration

of victory and reunion.

1968 Homecoming Court
Cate Regan, Linda Hanrahan, Deb Playford, Deb Dalrymple, Deb Long, Phyllis West, Sandy Cramer, 1967 Homecoming Queen, Peg Casey.

Alumni, Mary Slifer and Barry Chesbro attend the dance.

Mr. Ciacco congratulates Deb.

Homecoming was held on November 9, 1968. This annual event is sponsored by Sceptre Service. All alumni were cordially invited to attend.

Court members were nominated by the Senior Class and the Queen was elected by the entire student body.

At halftime of the G.C.H.S. vs Shaker game, on the home field, Deb Long was crowned Queen, after a procession around the field.

At the Dance, held that evening, the court was escorted by various athletes and soon joined in on the Royal Dance, started by the Queen and her escort.

"Love is Blue", the theme, was well attended. All alumni and students of Guilderland agreed it was one Homecoming to be well remembered.

Jardin Lumineux

The Junior's genuine interest and ability was displayed this year in "Jardin Lumineux". After several months of detailed preparation and planning, the gym was transformed into a moonlit garden of flowers and fountains. The bleachers conveniently served as brick wall gardens with each hand made flower contributing to a breath taking color scheme. The coronation platform emphasized the theme with silver stars, a bright moon and silk covered trees.

The class worked diligently for many months, but all agreed that their efforts were justly rewarded with a most successful evening.

Climaxing the prom was the crowning of Phyllis West: Queen and Ian Brown: King by last year's queen and king, Deb Savage and Bill Meyl.

The uniqueness of the favors also proved the ingenuity of the class of "69". They were minature class rings in which the date of graduation was engraved. Many girls wore them as necklaces, attached them to bracelets, or pinned them to shirt collars to remind them of a most enjoyable night.

Our special thanks go to Mr. Ronald Pryor, whose skillful guidance, made this prom possible.

Class members enjoy a memorable evening.

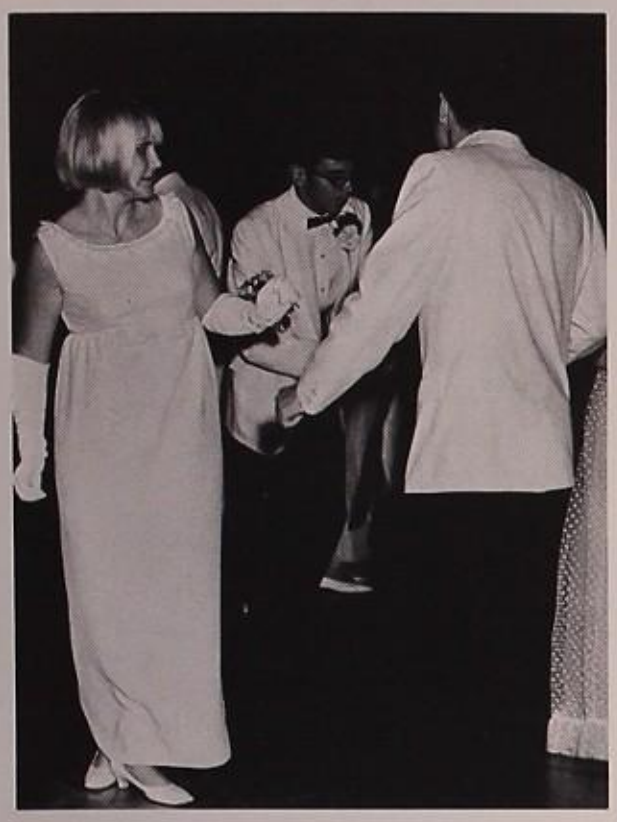
moment of the Senior Year.



Peg Pellot does a fast number.

One of the last creations of the class of "68" was Noche Encantadora. The ballroom was accented with Spanish torches and all types of flowers.

The high point of the evening was the coronation in which Carol Furey, 1967 Senior Ball Queen crowned Rose Gepfert and Bill Foland, 1967 King crowned John Sands.

Guests enjoyed themselves while dancing, waltz and rock, socializing with their classmates and dates.

All who attended the ball agreed that it was a memorable evening.

The Royal Dance after coronation.

The 1968 Senior Ball Court: Deb Savage, Tim Ward, Linda Schell, Keith Johnson, Peg Casey, Enver Er, 1967 Queen Carol Furey, 1968 Queen Rose Gepfert, 1968 King John Sands, 1967 King Bill Foland, Hiroshi Hoshino, Lynn Malin, John Hornbach, Pat Osterhout, Mark Beeler, Eileen Stephens.

Were it not for the many patrons and well-wishers who have made contributions, offered encouragement and congratulations to the students and the yearbook staff, the completion of this yearbook would have been more difficult and less rewarding. We are pleased to be able to provide a few pages to mention all of those who have made donations to the yearbook. The yearbook staff thanks all of our patrons whose special support, has helped to make the 1969 Tawasenthan possible.

KNOW WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU GO TO A SMALL COLLEGE?

THE TEACHERS KNOW WHO YOU ARE.

If you're interested in a small college with a great faculty that is interested in helping you get the meaningful and rewarding college education you seek, why not investigate The College of Saint Rose, a liberal arts college for women.

Small classes will let your teachers get to know you, and you'll get to know them, in the classroom and after class, at lunch, or over coffee. You'll have more opportunity for independent research and study. You'll learn more because you'll be challenged more . . . because the accent will be on you.

For information about programs of study and admission requirements, write to the Director of Admissions.

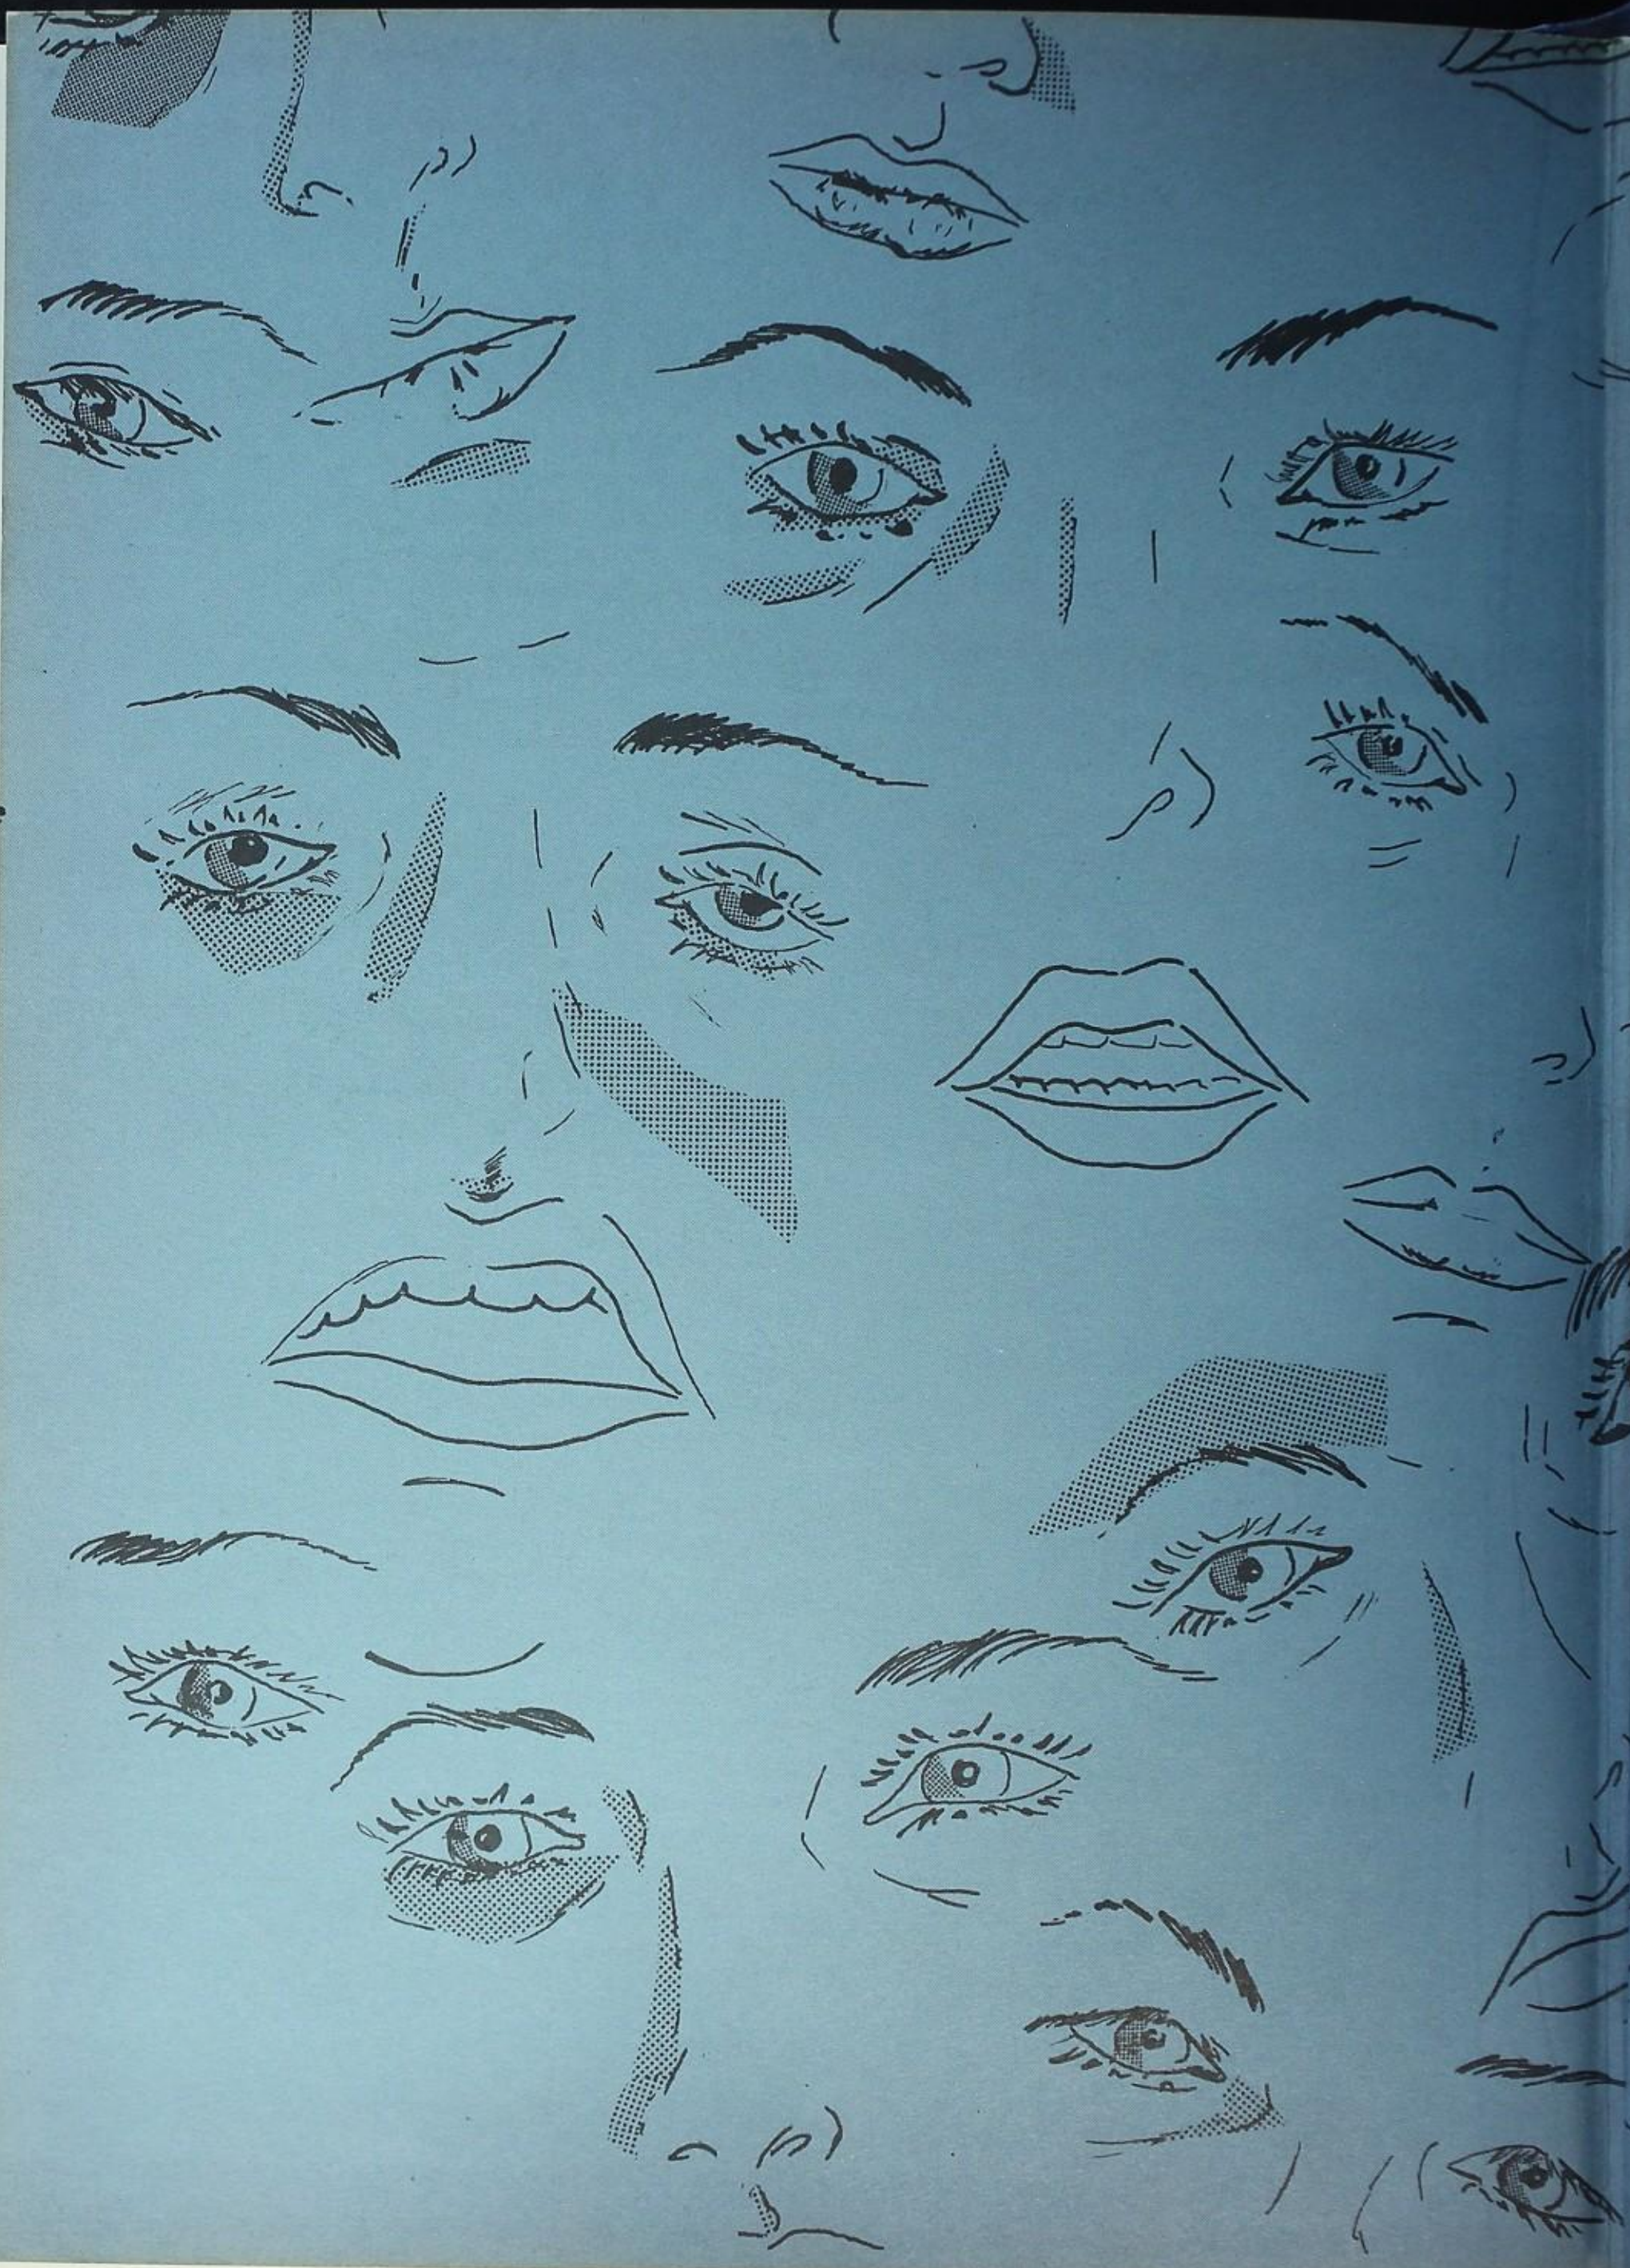
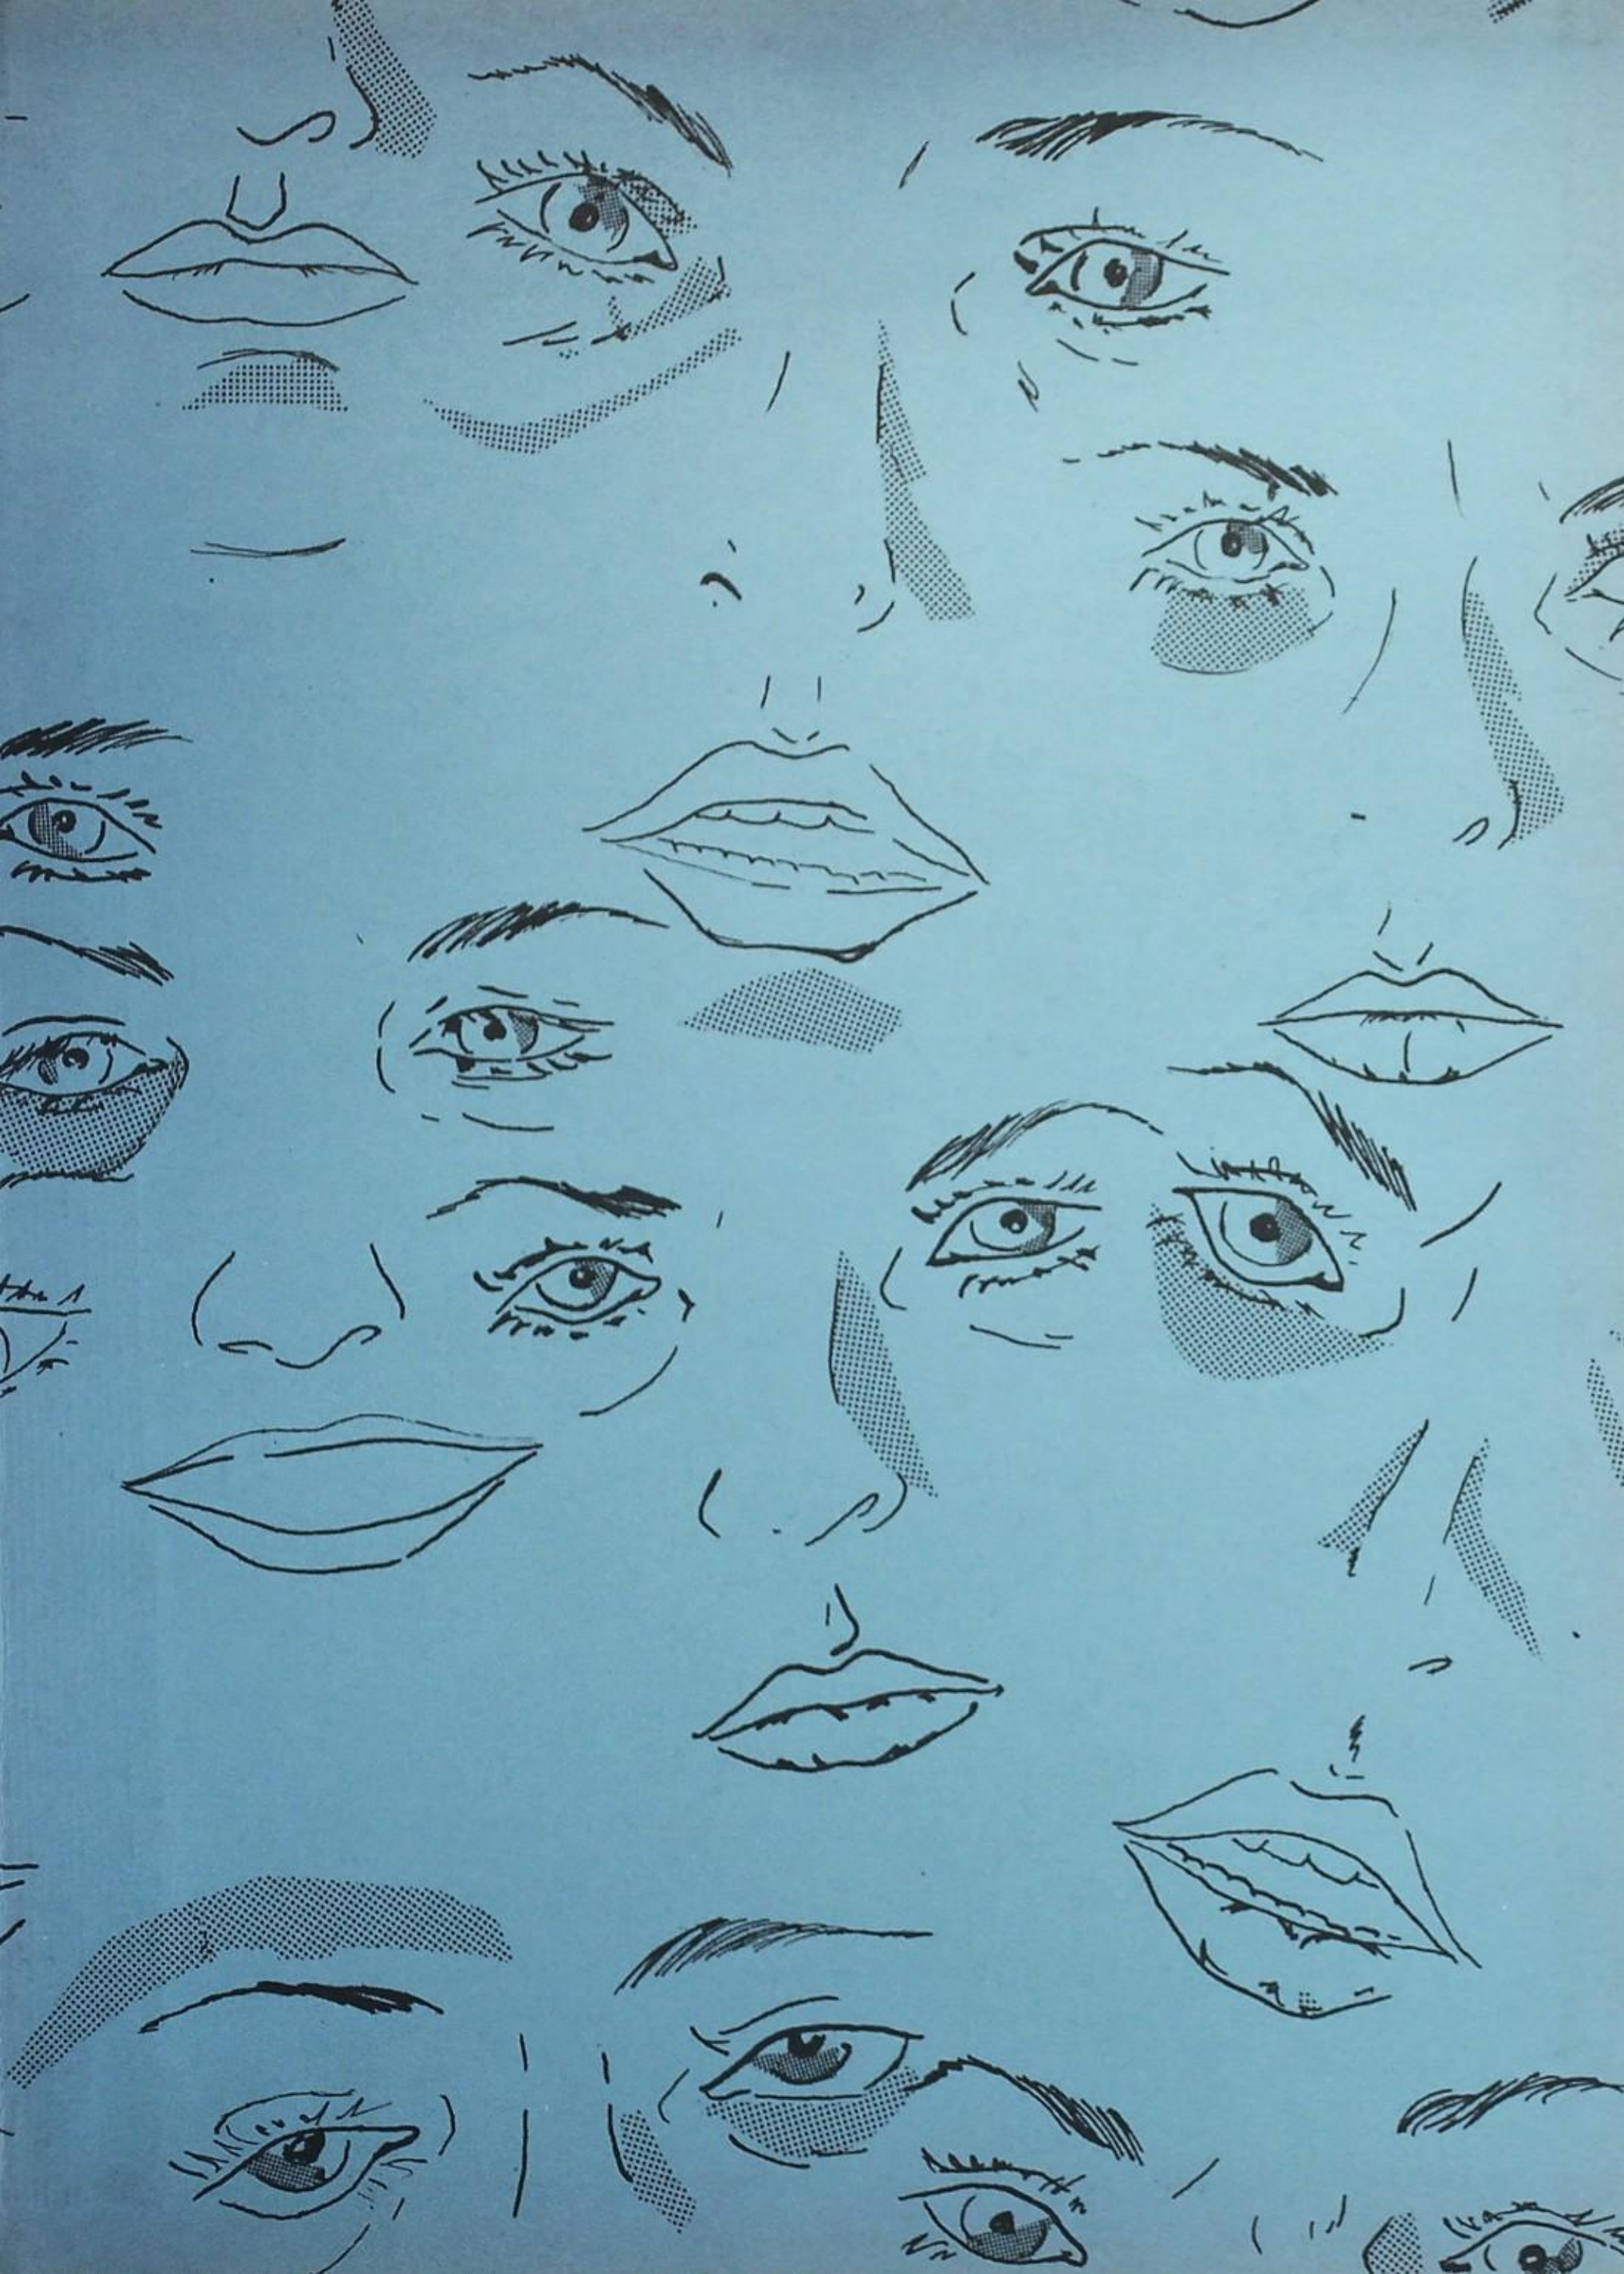
And we respond




feeling the pain of others
running-out of fear
learning to compromise
anger because of misconception
rebuilding in hope
silent tears and prayers
sharing, opening, giving
selfishness because of conceit
seeing everything in perspective
intolerance from ignorance
the emptiness of withdrawal
cheating when you are trusted
pleasure from victory
a momentary satisfaction
resting your hand on a friend's shoulder
drumming fingers on a desk because of boredom
laughing because it tickles
cringing at a sour note
singing in joy
disjointed chattering to break silence
a sincere expression
excuses for defeat
A problem faced
student's crying
a teacher's concern
acting carefree as a guise
caring, sympathizing, loving
slamming the book when you don't understand
thought to find a solution
anticipating a movement
an open mouth when a perfect paper is received
almost dying for security
a wink in a crowd
quitting because it is too tough
searching for the truth
dragging your feet as you walk
letting the sun's rays seap into your skin
shrinking from harsh words
